Synopsis

I did not own some of the world settings, but the remaining is all my own creation.

In any world there is no villain or protagonist instead there are people with various levels of luck and opportunities.

The final winner among them becomes a hero or the protagonist while the remaining people that became the stepping stones for the protagonist become the villains.

The villains are actually formed because of the mistakes of the so called good and peace loving people.

A good man that was darkened by the seemingly good people became a villain.

Finally after achieving his goals of revenge on the society he died happily while the people that killed him only has despair because of the aftermath.

When he opened his eyes he was already 2 years old kid that got his head bumped.

Most probably he died at that time and the soul of this villain replaced the kid.

The most shocking thing is that there is a strange creature taking care of him.

He has seen this creature in a movie in his previous life.

Can't villain see a movie with his mistress?

This should be Kreacher.

Immediately the memories of the kid returned to his mind.

Immediately he understood he is the son of Sirius black and Mary Goldsman.

He is called Jonathan black.

He is currently in the black house under the care of his grandmother Walburga Black a pure blood enthusiast.

“Ding, congratulations host you have obtained the villain choice system.”

“Please make your first choice.

Option 1: Push the blame of your injury to Draco Malfoy; you will be rewarded with 1000 gold Galleons.

Option 2: push the blame to Crabbe and Goyle; you will receive +2 percent critical hit in everything you wanted.”

Chapter 12: come to my box later

Chapter 12: come to my box later

It looked like a green wooden stick that is still green but not dried.

There is a strong sense of vitality coming from the wand and it actually bends to some extent even the core inside felt like still in liquid state.

The wand felt more like a rubber stick with light bending but not breaking.

But there is also wooden nature with its stiffness base on his thoughts.

It is very similar to the soft sword that as used as belt.

All in all it is strange.

Jonathan can actually put it as bracelet on his hand instead of carrying it like other people.

Well there are other ways too.

But it was really convenient.

As for the high cost of the wand, it is because it was made of special materials that are extremely hard to find.

In the current magical world finding these materials is hard.

But still considering the current cost it was still very low in comparison to many things.

Jonathan directly paid the 12 gold galleons and after that they left this place.

They still have to buy books and few more things.

With the things he moved on with the Malfoy family to collect things.

Lucius wanted to snatch the wand in Jonathan's hand but he was unable to do that because of the unbreakable vow.

Well it would be cheap for his character.

But the frustration during this time has clearly caused some psychological problems.

Well they returned back to Malfoy mansion.

There is still 2 months time before they go to Hogwarts.

During this time Jonathan got familiar with his wand and also practiced some complicated fighting moves in secret.

Well doobby noticed this but since Malfoy people did not ask he did not say about what it saw Jonathan doing.

The time passed by quickly and finally it is the day they start to Hogwarts.

When Jonathan arrived with Malfoy family he put most of the things inside the space except for few packages for show.

As for his pet Goldy, it was already sent to Hogwarts by Kreacher.

When Jonathan arrived at the station the girls group of pansy hopped around and came to speak to Draco.

They did not put Jonathan in their eyes.

None of the pure blood families have any good eyes for him except for the wealth behind him.

All they wanted is to look for the right opportunity to snatch his wealth from him.

Unfortunately they did not have the chance.

In the group of girls that came along with pansy there is one girl that did not look for Draco but looked for him instead.

It was Daphne.

Previously most of their communication is through eyes.

It is as if they can understand each other's thoughts just by looking at each other.

Right at that time another family came that is full of people with red hair.

It was the Weasley family.

In the entire family Jonathan was only interested in Ginny.

But he would not make any moves until later.

He is the villain.

He would wait for a little longer before making any big moves.

For now he checked out molly but immediately lost interest.

Even though she has a nice rack she is not the type that Jonathan likes.

So his focus would be on Ginny later.

Before making his move on her, he has to prepare some things so that everything would be perfect.

Also he has to gain a special impression from her.

Because of their appearance the attention of the group Jonathan took a step forward coming close to Daphne and directly kissed on her cheek.

Then he said.

“You look beautiful.

Come to my box later.

Don't sit with that lady gang,

They would just spoil your image.”

As he said that to the dazed Daphne, he took a step back returning to his previous position.

The face of Daphne became red immediately and she appeared to be shy.

She glared at Jonathan but there is a small smile at the corner of her mouth

No one in the group noticed this.

“Daphne, what are you blushing.”

Pansy asked with many doubts but there is no one to clear them.

The group immediately split up as each has to do their thing.

Jonathan arranged his things into the train.

He already got the ticket.

As for Draco he went to a different place to sit along with Crabbe and Goyle.

Pansy's group also returned back to their box first.

As for Daphne, she looked back at Jonathan that is putting his things into the train and looked at her pointing to the box.

Looking at the gestures of Jonathan, she blushed again and quickly ran away like a frightened rabbit.

Jonathan shakes his head with a smile and simply moved into the train.

Well there is no one to give send off to him.

It was a little sad, but he did not feel much about it.

He is wearing a white shirt and pants with a very clean appearance with curly black hair.

He was sitting by the window, took out a book to read.

The train started to move immediately.

The entire thing gave a picturesque with the handsome appearance of Jonathan.

He was fortunate enough to inherit the good points from both his mother and father.

While he is reading the book about some interesting facts someone knocked on the door of the box.

It was Daphne.

She has a blushing face but she still came.

Jonathan closed the book and invited her inside.

She sat opposite to Jonathan and did not dare to speak much.

Jonathan took the initiative to speak.

“You know I love your long blond hair.

Never cut your hair no matter what in the future.

You look very beautiful.

I have brought you a gift.”

Jonathan took out a leather pouch out of thin air which was actually an expansion magic pouch and fiddled inside finding out a small box.

Chapter 13: a kiss can solve many

Chapter 13: a kiss can solve many things

Jonathan took out a leather pouch out of thin air which was actually an expansion magic pouch and fiddled inside finding out a small box.

Then he gave this box to Daphne to open.

It has a golden chain inside.

This was specifically brought by Jonathan that would perfectly fit the pendent of silver made from his magic on the silver spoon before.

He pulled her closure and pulled out the chain that is inside her clothes slowly.

He connected the locket and chain in his hand to the silver pendent and used the magic to attach and repair immediately.

It immediately attached with good finishing and looked perfect.

With that he put the chain around her neck looking straight into the eyes of Daphne.

Her cheeks blushed but she did not look away from the eyes of Jonathan during the entire time.

Her big eyes started straight into the eyes of Jonathan like a noble queen and the eyes have deep sense of curiosity and affection.

As for the reason why it is like that even she don't know the answer about that.

The moment he stopped her from falling back the image of Jonathan has deeply imprinted in her mind.

She was unable to get it out of her mind.

Well that is how things are.

After putting on the chain Jonathan pulled her a little and kissed her on the cheek making her more blushed.

But she did not reject him or said anything bad.

She only became shy and blushed more with her white face turning red.

At that time the train has already moved to some distance and the journey is smooth sailing.

Jonathan spoke to Daphne while she slowly opened up to him and started to speak normally.

She is a normal cultured girl with standard etiquette taught to her because of the noble family.

She has a strong heart but also close to the colder and aloof side.

She is in the pansy's gang but she would not participate in their nasty girly talk and other nonsense.

Instead she is more inclined to calm and noble demeanor.

Being the eldest lady of her family she has mature mind and can connect to Jonathan quickly unlike those naughty girls.

Jonathan liked her character as they spoke about each other slowly while the train is moving on.

Just then the gang of pansy came over finding Daphne sitting with Jonathan and speaking like a couple.

Pansy immediately came to meddle in the matter.

She did not even knock on the door and came in directly with another 3 girls.

She directly sat by the side of Jonathan and wanted to act like a person with princess disease.

She first said a few things about Jonathan that,

He is an orphan,

He ate in Malfoy family but did not have any loyalty.

He is a bad guy that always made Draco's life difficult.....

She talked like a chatter box without any breaks.

Right at that time Jonathan heard the movement of the trolley.

It was Honeydukes Express cart pushed by the trolley witch.

Pansy did not notice this and is still talking nonsense.

Jonathan was a little annoyed so he wanted to do something to make pansy stop talking.

"Ding

Host, make your choice

Option 1: let pansy continue to trash about the host; reduction in the reputation of the host by 10 percent permanently.

Option 2: stop pansy from talking trash by any means necessary; increase in the charm of the host by 10 percent permanently.

....."

Looking at the options Jonathan immediately understood what is going on.

If he wants to have good reputation and charm then he has to stop her from talking trash about him.

He directly chose the second option.

There are many ways to stop her from talking trash but he did not prefer to use violence against ladies.

Ladies are like Rose flowers that needed to be cared slowly and smoothly.

If he is anxious then he might be pierced by the needles of the Rose.

So he has to handle them delicately.

Also slapping her now would be counterproductive and it would not solve the problem for him.

So he chose another solution that can solve the problem.

This solution might cause Daphne to become a little jealous but this is the best way.

She is sitting right next to him.

So it was easy.

He pulled her towards him and kissed her on the cheek.

The sudden action stopped her from talking and the girls in front of her opened their mouths wide in shock including Pansy.

Jonathan did not let her make any move and directly said.

“Are you hungry do you want to eat something?”

Pansy, don't know what to say.

She did not encounter this kind of situation before.

She was stunned that she could not respond.

On the other hand Daphne pouted immediately being jealous.

Jonathan immediately received the notification that the choice is successful and got the benefit.

Right at that time the Trolley Witch old lady came pushing the trolley.

Jonathan bought some candies, pies and cotton candies that girls usually like from the trolley by spending 4 gold galleons.

Jonathan knows that Daphne is angry with him for his actions.

After receiving the candy from the old lady she even gave him an extra because he is charming and pleasing to look.

The girls in the Pansy's gang are silent and did not talk any more.

Jonathan gave them the candy and gave an apple pie to Pansy.

As for Daphne he gave her cotton cream candy that she reluctantly took because she is angry.

The box is silent.

Daphne has a little cream on her cheek.

Jonathan suddenly moved forward to the face of Daphne that made her stunned and looked at Jonathan.

“There is some cream on your cheek.

Let me clean if for you.”

As he said that he licked her cheek and kissed her cheek again.

Chapter 14: you know you would hate me in the future

Chapter 14: you know you would hate me in the future

“There is some cream on your cheek.

Let me clean if for you.”

As he said that he licked her cheek and kissed her cheek again.

“You are sweeter than candy.”

Jonathan commented looking at her face.

Immediately she smiled sweetly and the previous anger is gone.

Listening to his comment the other girls including Pansy blushed and their thoughts are complicated.

They no longer talked trash about Jonathan.

They are the food that Jonathan gave them and left silently back to their box with red faces.

It is especially so for Pansy that looked at Jonathan with a little longing and obsession.

Daphne also left after that as she has to talk with the girls about her territory and authority over Jonathan.

She knows about the affair in the noble circle.

She is 12 years old and many things would be taught in the family for noble girls.

This is a common practice all over the world.

Even if there is no magic in the world, the rules are still the same.

Now only Jonathan is left in the box.

The candy covers are spilled all over the place.

Jonathan took out his wand and gently waved it.

Immediately all the covers and spilled food was packed into an empty cover and flew over to the side where the trash can be collected easily.

Right at that time a cure girl appeared in his box.

She had a light complexion, bright brown eyes, and lots of bushy brown hair.

She is Hermione Granger.

If you look at her as it is she is not that beautiful.

Her beauty was covered by her bush hair and lack of proper maintenance to her image.

If she took proper image then she would have appeared more beautiful and cute at her current age.

She just stood there with astounded eyes looking at Jonathan using magic to clean the things.

Don't take cleaning magic as an easy things to do.

It is an advanced version of levitation magic that is used on multiple selected targets that are arranged to move in different directions.

It is a complicated spell to cast.

This is what that fascinated an over achieving girl like Hermione.

She stood there fascinated for a while.

Jonathan did not disturb her right now, instead after he is done with the cleaning he started to read the book on his hand peacefully by the side of the window.

The picturesque image made Hermione even more interested in Jonathan.

She came back to her senses when Neville behind her accidentally bumped into her while walking slowly.

Immediately she knocked on the door of the box and came in to talk to Jonathan.

"That spell is really great.

Even though it is simple cleaning magic it is very complicated to use.

Oh! I forgot to introduce myself.

I am Hermione Granger.

It is nice to meet you.

May I know your name?"

Jonathan waited for her to finish what she wanted to say and then finally he spoke to her.

"I am Jonathan black,

It is nice to meet you miss granger.

As for the magic it is easy if you learn few more spells and broader understanding of spells.”

As Jonathan said Hermione thought for a moment.

She wanted to learn but there is another thing on hand that she wanted to solve first.

“Actually I am here for helping this boy.

His name is Neville long bottom.

He has lost his toad, Trevor

Have you seen it?”

Jonathan listened to her and smiled at her.

Then he took out a crystal ball out of thin air and stared at it intently.

This is his trick to divination as cover to tell the future events to fascinate them.

This would cover the fact that he has memories from the other world and the plot like of the story.

After staring at the crystal ball for a few seconds Jonathan smiled again and looked at Hermione.

“Miss granger, I have two predictions for you.

First is that the toad of mister Neville would appear when the train halts at Hogsmeade station from a tall bear like man.

Second is that in the future after joining Hogwarts you would hate me because of the words of others.

Any way it is nice meeting you miss granger.

If things turned out to be good, we can be friends in the future.”

Jonathan spoke mysteriously.

Hermione did not understand what Jonathan said.

She was really confused.

But she still left the box without thinking anything.

Well she wanted to ask Jonathan more but Jonathan refused to speak anything more right now.

But she did not stop searching for the toad of Neville long bottom.

As usual she met with Harry and Ron later and then the fight started with Draco, Crabbe and Goyle but it stopped after the fat rat of Ron bit Goyle.

Jonathan did not care about them.

After Hermione left the box was silent and there is no one to disturb him.

It was peaceful but it was lonely at the same time.

Jonathan did not like this feeling and decided to get some trusted people later to add in to his group later.

He continued to read his book during this time.

In the evening when they are about to arrive at the Hogsmeade station he changed into the school robes.

The Hogwarts train reached the station of Hogsmeade by the time it was getting dark.

There is a big man that looked like a giant waving the lantern in the dim lit platform.

The students are divided and the first years are asked to follow him.

Jonathan got off the train and walked over towards Hagrid and stood at one corner.

Right at that time Neville suddenly went forward to get his toad from the hands of Hagrid.

Hermione immediately remembered about the prediction of Jonathan before and she did not believe it then.

But she believes the predictions of Jonathan now.

Chapter 15: Jonathan black, the son of the traitorous murderer

Chapter 15: Jonathan black, the son of the traitorous murderer

Hermione immediately remembered about the prediction of Jonathan before and she did not believe it then.

But she believes the predictions of Jonathan now.

Also she was puzzled about why would she hate handsome, charming, mysterious and intelligent boy like Jonathan later because of words from others.

Soon they followed Hagrid on a slippery path going to the side of the lake.

Jonathan doesn't know what this ceremony is about.

Instead of going straight to the castle in normal path the first year students should go through complicated path and even cross the lake on boats to reach the castle.

Well he has to admit that the night view of the castle is really amazing to look.

But for that going through all this trouble, is it really necessary.

Well he doesn't know.

Also his face became solemn when he saw the giant squid under the lake is far more concerning factor than the beauty of the castle.

Well anyone would feel fear if they saw a huge monster squid swimming under the boat sailing on a pitch black lake.

If they did not fear about this and can still enjoy the beauty of the magical castle then they are either brave enough to face the monster or they are simply ignorant.

Jonathan is currently sitting on the same boat of Daphne, Hermione and Neville.

Hermione wanted to ask him about something but she stopped herself because of some doubts.

Any way they finally reached under the castle where there is a corridor with a stair case leading to the top.

They moved on under the instructions of Hagrid.

Hagrid did not know Jonathan so he did not recognize Jonathan.

As for Draco, he is having his pride with his eyes and nose toward the sky speaking with Crabbe and Goyle.

On the other hand Jonathan was silent and mixed in the students.

Daphne is standing by his side.

Hermione has already moved on forward with the group.

Jonathan whispered in Daphne's ear.

"Don't worry if we are not in the same house.

But we will always be together during the entire school life."

Jonathan said to her making her confused and blush for a little while.

As they moved up the corridor they stopped at the top.

The new students are greeted at the castle door by Professor Minerva McGonagall, who tells them they will soon be sorted into their houses.

All Hogwarts students live in one of four houses namely Gryffindor, Hufflepuff, Ravenclaw, or Slytherin, with each house having its own team for Quidditch.

The houses are in a yearlong competition with one another to acquire the most points,

The points are earned by success in Quidditch games and given by teachers for academic achievement and lost for student infractions,

In order to win the House Cup awarded at the end of the year the house has to have most points.

Hermione was a little nervous as she thought that she would be going to be tested.

If she fails she would be returned to her boring life of a normal person.

The first-years wait in an antechamber while McGonagall checks to see whether it is time yet.

The Hogwarts ghosts glide into the room by mistake while debating whether to offer Peeves another chance.

Daphne was shocked by the sudden appearance of ghosts and she grabbed the hand of Jonathan for a moment.

Jonathan did not fear as he was anticipating them.

The students are led to the Great Hall, where the entire school and a battered old hat on a stool are waiting for them.

When the students try on the Sorting Hat, it announces the house in which they are placed.

Harry becomes very nervous.

He has learned that he does not care for Slytherin house, as the students in it are unpleasant and Voldemort once belonged to Slytherin.

Actually this was not his original thoughts but the prejudice created by Hagrid and other that he met during this time has created this kind of thoughts in his mind.

So he started to despise Slytherin from the bottom of his heart.

When Hermione was sorted into the Gryffindor, Ron was displeased.

He did not like the girl that fuels his inferiority complex.

Also she is too upright and proud of herself, for him to become friends with her.

During the call out of the names many people have different anticipations.

At that time Jonathan's name was called.

"Jonathan black"

As soon as his name was called the place became quite.

Not many people know about this matter but anyone that listened to the matter related to Sirius black knows about the black name.

As for the identity of Jonathan, it can be easily identified by the people present.

He is the only heir of black family currently present.

So immediately things are connected to him and he gained the name,

"The son of the murderer"

The students in the great hall started whisper while Jonathan did not show any emotion on his face and walked straight to the stool and sat on it.

Even professor McGonagall was in a dazed state for a moment before putting the hat on the top of Jonathan's head.

At that moment the eyes of Jonathan were very calm but the thoughts in his mind are showing hero saving the beauty, love....

All the qualities of Gryffindor appeared in his mind as if he was self hypnotized.

On the other hand he also strongly thought of going to Gryffindor.

The reason for this is not to become close to Harry but to get the invisibility cloak that Harry gets for this Christmas.

There are many cloaks of invisibility.

But they would lose their invisibility quality over time.

Only the invisibility cloak that Harry gets is the real one from the deathly hallows.

Jonathan wanted to switch the fake invisibility cloak with the one he has from his grandmother.

This would not disrupt the plot and he would get the original invisibility cloak.

Chapter 16: which house did he sort to?

Chapter 16: which house did he sort to?

Jonathan wanted to switch the fake invisibility cloak with the one he has from his grandmother.

This would not disrupt the plot and he would get the original invisibility cloak.

For that and few more things, he needs to be in the Gryffindor.

The biggest cover of a white villain is his capabilities to stay popular and appear pure no matter what in the public.

This is his greatest shield that can help him stay protected from all kinds of problems.

While this is happening Hermione that already sat at the Gryffindor table understood why she would hate Jonathan.

It was because the black family is pure blood supremacist and he is the son of a murderer.

Normally any person that knows the details of Jonathan would form a negative impression of him.

So it is not possible to hate him for this.

On the other hand Hermione did not think that Jonathan black was a bad person.

He said she would hate him because of his background.

But in reality he is not a bad person at all.

Also she is a muggle born wizard, which is unacceptable to pure blood wizard family like black family.

Well her thoughts are complicated right now.

While she is thinking many on the Slytherin were also thinking about Jonathan black.

“You have a strange mind”

The worlds of the sorting hat appeared in his mind.

“You have many qualities of the good but your mind is sinister.

You are a good man but that was darkened to the point of no return.

You have not just stepped into the abyss but took a deep dip.

Slytherin is the best house for you.

But since you want to be a Gryffindor then Gryffindor it is.”

As Jonathan heard the words of the sorting hat it finally made the decision for Jonathan.

“Gryffindor”

The sorting hat announced loudly.

The people became dazed again as this is something unexpected and they were actually shocked.

How could Jonathan from the black family enter Gryffindor?

It was not strange as Sirius black the father of Jonathan black was also from the Gryffindor.

But the hard part is that Sirius black is a mass murdered.

Most of the people present thought that the sorting hat has made a mistake.

But none of them spoke.

Jonathan slowly got up and walked to the Gryffindor table without any change of expression.

He did not have a mood swing and no one can tell if he is angry or happy.

At the Gryffindor table none has welcomed him like they did to other students.

The professors can see the difference but none of them spoke.

This is the affair of the students and it has to be solved by the students.

They cannot meddle into their affairs and make people harmonious.

It would not happen.

Since it is like this they directly ignored the matter all together and continued with the sorting.

On the other hand Ron that is beside Harry told him what the people because like this because of knowing the Jonathan's name.

Also when he learnt that the death of his parents is related to the father of Jonathan he became angrier.

But he could not do anything.

He is going to ask Jonathan about this matter later.

But he also understood the important thing that is Jonathan has never met with his father since birth.

So he could not be angry towards Jonathan.

On the other hand he was thinking that Jonathan is also just like his father that would be a traitor once trusted.

Because of this their opinion towards Jonathan has dropped to all time low.

It is like saying that the son of a thief might become a thief.

Since his father is a traitor and murderer then he might be a traitor and murdered in the future.

This is the typical mentality of foolish (Ron) and impulsive (Harry) people.

In the great hall many people are not like that.

But they would not show their good will immediately.

One has to earn the respect on their own and then they could become close.

As for the impulsive and foolish people they are simply useless.

Jonathan did not bother with anyone and started to do his own thing peacefully.

Hermione on the side did not avoid him and sat right next to him.

As for Neville, he has heard the prediction of Jonathan before.

So he is also on the side of Jonathan to some extent but he is not completely on Jonathan's side.

He sat opposite to Jonathan and did not speak about it.

He was not close to death eaters and he did not usually get close to people under normal circumstances.

No matter what in terms of appearance Jonathan was very pleasing to look.

Soon Harry and Ron were sorted into Gryffindor while Draco, Pansy, Daphne were sorted to Slytherin.

Daphne looked a little gloomy but when she remembered the words of Jonathan before she thought of something.

When she checked the time table of the classes, both Slytherin and Gryffindor will be given classes at the same time.

So they will be in the same class except for the sleeping arrangements.

This made her happy.

Everyone sits down to a grand feast to begin the year.

Jonathan showed little excitement towards the variety of luscious food served.

Sir Nicholas de Mimsy-Porpington, the resident ghost of Gryffindor.

He is popularly known as Nearly Headless Nick because of a botched decapitation.

He introduces himself to the first-year students of Gryffindor and tells them he hopes they will win the house championship this year.

While they are having desert they started to talk about their lives.

Neville Longbottom tells how his family thought he was a Squib until he survived a fall from a window.

Another person that always blows up the things in the original plot called Seamus Finnigan talks about how his father.

His father was a Muggle, was shocked when he found out his wife was a witch.

Chapter 17: a qualified villain and a cannon fodder villain

Chapter 17: a qualified villain and a cannon fodder villain

Another person that always blows up the things in the original plot called Seamus Finnigan talks about how his father.

His father was a Muggle, was shocked when he found out his wife was a witch.

Not many people are paying attention to Jonathan during this time as he continued to eat his food and dessert while listening to the words of the surrounding people.

After dessert, Dumbledore gets up to make his welcome speech.

He then spoke about some of the restrictions of Hogwarts.

He adds a few warnings about staying away from the Forbidden Forest and avoiding the 3rd-floor corridor on the right side of the school.

It is simply saying that I have prepared a special training program along with publicity elevation program for the protagonist.

You are not allowed to spoil it other than watching the show and get fascinated by the protagonist the Harry potter.

Jonathan really hates this kind of plot nonsense.

It is especially so for the things arranged by Dumbledore.

With that over everyone was sent to the respective common rooms where their dorms are connected.

The first years are led to the Gryffindor common room by Percy that became prefect recently.

Jonathan has his special thoughts towards Percy.

Percy is an ambitious boy.

At first he was infatuated with Penelope and then in the later days he went on to marry a woman from the pure blood family that can support his ambitions.

As for Penelope, she is from a muggle family with middle class background.

So she was directly abandoned when he lost his infatuation.

Jonathan being a villain can use this point for his advantage later.

So he kept this thing in his mind.

But for now he would not make a move.

On the way, the Gryffindor house students run into Peeves, a Poltergeist.

Upon arriving at the Gryffindor common room door they meet the Fat Lady in the portrait that lets them into Gryffindor Tower after Percy gives her the password.

Before going to the female dorm Hermione came to Jonathan and said 'good night' silently and left quickly.

The people cannot decide the bed that they wanted.

It was already arranged with names and luggage that was already placed beside the bed.

So that is there designated bed.

Jonathan is coincidentally in the same room as Harry Potter.

There is also Ron, Neville and Seamus in the same room.

Jonathan doesn't think it was coincidence.

But he cannot just change rooms.

Things are fixed.

So he did not say much and only introduced himself only after Neville and Seamus talked to him.

After that he directly slept.

That day is finally over.

Both Harry and Ron appeared to be cursed to lose directions.

Whenever they go out they would never make it to class in time.

Something always goes wrong for them.

As for Jonathan it is not a problem at all.

He has already memorized all the important things at Hogwarts School and he can find his way around the school without any problem.

Also Jonathan specifically looked for the location of the school caretaker

Argus Filch.

This place has the marauder's map that he wanted to get it.

Any way it belongs to his father as much as belongs to Harry.

So he wanted to get this thing for himself.

During the time of classes Jonathan listened to it carefully.

Knowledge is always useful and even if he already knows everything there are things that are always out of books and know by experience of the teachers.

Jonathan listened attentively.

The two men benches were arranged in all classes and Jonathan straight away sat by the side of Daphne which made her happy.

On the other hand Hermione sat in the same place as she usually sits.

The history class is boring but Jonathan was not bored.

He is doing two things at the same time.

One is planning his future moves and the second is collecting his doubts about the magic of this world.

Why does he need to know the origin of magic?

Well it is very simple.

Based on the original plot the protagonist of this world did not seem to think of getting his hands on the origin of magic.

At the same time Voldemort is more interested in power than going through the origin of magic.

This means that neither of them are the original protagonist or villain of this world.

More like they are some, timeline protagonist or the villain.

They are like fleeting characters that appear for their own story just like formation of a fairy tale or something like that.

Other than that they did not have a bigger role.

Their entire story revolves around two things one is the Horcrux magic and the second is the items of the deathly hallows.

As long as Jonathan puts his fingers in any of these two matters, he would definitely be implicated.

Other than that, he would have to find the other protagonists and villains of this world.

For that he has to touch the origin of the magic.

A qualified villain should always have to keep his eyes on the bigger picture of the world.

Instead of a single plot like a cannon fodder villain that appears fleetingly and dies a shortly after just like his father in this plot.

Sirius was introduced in the third part as a villain at the beginning and redeems himself as the good person in the end.

Naturally he died later without achieving anything like a stupid cannon fodder.

Jonathan doesn't want to be a part of this small thing instead he wanted to step into the big picture and fight his way for the supremacy over the world.

He did not believe that all the gods, demons and other beings that should originally be there would vanish out of thin air without even leaving their bodies.

So his first target should be the origin of magic that was found at various places of the world.

Chapter 18: transfiguration class cat with golden circles around the eyes

Chapter 18: transfiguration class cat with golden circles around the eyes

He did not believe that all the gods, demons and other beings that should originally be there would vanish out of thin air without even leaving their bodies.

So his first target should be the origin of magic that was found at various places of the world.

Based on the oldest records of this world the first one started in Africa, and there are others in India, Mayan...

Going to this places and finding out the information from here would give him the connections to the truth.

But it is not the time to think about it as he listened to the history of magic less from professor Binns.

Also there is information related to magic that did not require wand usage too.

In his first Transfiguration class on Thursday, Professor McGonagall turned into a cat and sat on the desk looking at the students that are entering the class.

If you observe closely there is a mark of glasses on the eyes of the cat which professor McGonagall wears.

If they know the basics of Animagus then they can tell that the cat is professor McGonagall.

Jonathan actually wanted to laugh at the strange cat with round circle around its eyes.

But Jonathan held back so that his image would not be damaged easily.

Unfortunately Ron and Harry are stupid enough to lose their way coming to the class and even commenting on professor McGonagall.

So they got reprimanded before the class starts.

Professor McGonagall transfigures her desk into a pig and then back again.

While explaining how Transfiguration itself is some of the most complex and dangerous magic to be learned,

She also warned that anyone who will get caught messing around with it will have to be banned from the class.

The entire class is very impressed.

But soon they realized that they are not going to be changing furniture into animals.

They are going to turn a matchstick into a needle.

Originally in the entire class only Hermione should succeed in this and all the other people would be clueless on what to do.

This includes Draco as none of the people are good at fundamentals even with all the pre education that noble kids received.

“Ding

Host, make your choice,

Option 1: do not show your capabilities during the class;

Host would become more introverted.

Option 2: complete the transfiguration before Hermione but do not share the experience;

Host would be rewarded with 10 house points and host will become popular in both Gryffindor and Slytherin.

Option 3: complete the transfiguration before Hermione but do not share the experience;

Host would be rewarded with 20 house points,

Host will become popular in both Gryffindor and Slytherin.

Host will receive 10 percent improvement in transfiguration mastery towards moderate level

.....”

Skill levels are divided into 5 parts from novice, moderate, proficient, master and god levels.

Immediately Jonathan chose the third option as he already knows how to turn the matchstick into a needle perfectly.

The process is to convert the texture of the wood to that of the metal.

The compression of wood to the density of metal and then change its original nature is hard work to do.

Fortunately he has the comprehension skill that is in master level.

It let him study the process easily and comprehend the key points of the process of transfiguration.

So he was able to achieve it.

It was really hard work and Jonathan understood on how difficult the process is.

Hermione was able to achieve it so quickly shows how talented she actually is.

But if one thing is good something would naturally be bad.

Her intelligence is good in studies.

But the emotional level and trust level are a little problematic.

If not she would have discovered the true nature of Jonathan from his gentle facade.

When Jonathan completed professor McGonagall was impressed and Gryffindor received 10 points for Jonathan's achievement.

At the same time Jonathan started to teach Daphne Greengrass on how to transfigure the matchstick into a needle.

Hermione that is sitting in front of them looked at Jonathan for a moment and she asked Jonathan for help.

Professor McGonagall did not object Jonathan from sharing his experience.

So Jonathan spoke about his experience in simple words.

Both Hermione and Daphne are intelligent people and they immediately succeeded.

This made professor McGonagall happy again gave him another 10 points for his good deeds.

Her opinion of Jonathan changed for the better and the influence on her opinion of him that came from his father Sirius has faded a little.

The good image is the investment of a white villain for the future deeds he does.

So he has to accumulate them slowly.

On the other hand Harry and Ron are sulking because they were unable to do that even after listening to the words of Jonathan.

Daphne and Hermione completed the transfiguration easily.

Even Pansy was able to do it before the end of the class.

The reason why Harry was unable to do it is because of his hatred towards Jonathan because of Sirius.

As for Ron, he is simply jealous and he flunked the entire thing.

On the next day there is another class for the combined Slytherin and Gryffindor.

It is the defense against dark arts class with professor Quirrell.

Most people are actually looking forward to this class because of knowing about the dark arts.

Unfortunately it has become a joke.

The main thing that was taught or to be more precise the only thing they got from the class are the cowardly experiences of professor Quirrell.

Everything is about his sad adventures related to a vampire in Romania, an African prince that gave him his turban for clearing some zombie.

Well just like that the day ended.

On the next day Hedwig brought a letter to Harry while Jonathan also received a letter from Goldy.

It was from Willy.

It seems to have collected the materials that Jonathan asked it to.

Chapter 19: first flying class

Chapter 19: first flying class

It was from wily.

It seems to have collected the materials that Jonathan asked it to.

As for the money, they already had some on their hands.

Well most of the things are stolen.

Where did you see that villain would pay the money for the goods?

Villain is meant to deceive other people and that is exactly what he does.

In the school Jonathan has to do many things and the time he has is not enough for him to complete all these things.

So he usually uses a time turner to solve this problem.

The time turner he has is given to him by his grandmother from the secret artifacts of black family.

Do only ministry of magic has time turners.

The pure blood families also had them.

It is especially so for the pure blood families with long lineage in the history.

He specifically asked her for this time turner.

Using this timer turner the maximum time he can go back outside the bounds of time is only 5 hours.

He has been using this to study many things over the years.

Even in the Malfoy family he used the inferior invisibility cloak along with time turner to sneak around the library of Malfoy family.

Well the normal library without any old dark magic books that is open for him and Draco.

This is a reason why Jonathan's growth is a little abnormal.

Every day he would spend extra 5 hours to do various things.

This has happened for more than 7 years which let him age for extra 12775 hours.

This is equals to 532+ days that is more than a year.

So he looks a year older than his appearance.

Based on the normal time line he is still 12 year old.

But his physical and mental age is over 13 year old.

Hermione also suffered this thing a little.

Fortunately she only stayed out of bounds of time in her third year for only 45+ days all in total hours.

This would not let her age much but she is already older compared to many students on the same class.

She was born in September so technically she is over 9 months older than Harry.

For that matter she is also older than Jonathan but not now.

Friday they have potions class.

Jonathan arrived early and occupied his place as usual.

Except for Harry, Snape would not bother with anyone for the time being.

So Jonathan peacefully sat beside Daphne without any problem.

When a Slytherin and a Gryffindor sat beside each other harmoniously why would anyone quarrel about this?

Fortunately the number of students is in odd numbers.

Originally Jonathan should not present in this world a poor Slytherin has to do his or her things alone.

Now this was solved with the presence of Jonathan.

Harry was mocked by Snape and Jonathan did not show any thoughts of making a move.

As usual Draco answered and he was given points.

Things are solved.

The system is also silent and did not issue any choices.

So he let things go.

After that he went to library to learn more from the advances study materials in the library.

The most useful thing about Hogwarts is that there are many useful things here for him to read.

His target is to see if he can find some clues about magic origin.

But the more he read the less he find.

His theoretical knowledge is deep and some of the things here were easily comprehended by him.

But all of this was research material on some inventions and other nonsense.

Jonathan knows that the most important things are not left out in the plain sight.

Most probably the thing he is looking for is in the restricted section.

He did not have the authority to go there.

So he simply studied other books to acquire more knowledge.

Just like that 2 weeks has gone by.

Now they are having the flying class.

It is a joint class with Slytherin and Gryffindor as usual.

Madam Hooch leads the class, gently sending the new fliers off the ground.

Jonathan knows that his time has come to make his move and gain his first friend from the Gryffindor.

Even though it was 2 weeks into the school Jonathan did not gain even a single proper friend from Gryffindor.

Even though there is Hermione that speaks to him it was just nominal and did not get too deep.

After the previous experience sharing in the transfiguration class the students would speak to him from time to time.

But none of them has formed friendship with him.

Today the situation is different.

He is going to save Neville and gain the popularity in both Gryffindor and Slytherin.

Right at that time madam hooch told all the students to get on the brooms but not to fly.

Jonathan got on the broom.

At the same time his wand is ready to cast the levitation charm to stop Neville from falling.

Right then Neville's broom started to run amok.

It did all kinds of feats in the sky as if it was professionally trained broomstick.

"Ding

Host, make your choice,

Option1: do not save Neville; host would not be able to make any friends for another 2 weeks

Option 2: save Neville from falling; host gains another 10 house points for Gryffindor and the reputation of the host increases by 10 percent.

Option 3: save Neville and stop the Rememberall crystal ball of Neville falling into the hands of Draco.

The show off and face slapping plot for the protagonist would be gone, Protagonist Harry potter would not be selected into the Quidditch team in the first year.

Host gains moderate level flying skill along with 10 house points for Gryffindor and good reputation from the surrounding people.

.....”

Jonathan wanted to laugh at the situation but he held back because this time he is here to make a good name instead of having negative impression.

Chapter 20: professor flit wick became interested

Chapter 20: professor flit wick became interested

Jonathan wanted to laugh at the situation but he held back because this time he is here to make a good name instead of having negative impression.

He immediately chose the third option and it was more valuable to him than other things.

After making the choice Jonathan started to wait for the opportunity.

During one of those feats the brook went over a guardian statue near the hall and Neville's robe got stuck to those swords of the stone guardian. Jonathan took the opportunity to take out the wand that looked like the freshly broken stem of a plant.

Right when Neville was about to fall Jonathan waved his wand and everyone heard his incantation of the levitation spell.

"Wingardium Leviosa"

Neville that should fall on the ground started to float and Jonathan slowly let him fall on the ground without a strong impact.

But still Neville was dizzy and the Rememberall crystal ball on his hand fell down.

Jonathan once again cast the levitation spell to get his hands on the Rememberall crystal ball that Draco wanted to snatch when it is rolling on the ground.

Draco looked at Jonathan with sinister eyes wanting to attack Jonathan. But he stopped because of the number of people present.

On the other hand madam hooch came to Neville taking care of his situation.

Fortunately he was not injured and he was only dizzy.

Madam hooch looked at Jonathan with much appreciation and said.

"Gryffindor would get 10 points for Jonathan's act of saving Neville in critical situation.

The class would be stopped here.

No one causes any trouble next.

Stay where you are and wait for me to come back.

Also, there is no flying with the brooms when I am not around.

Anyone that violates the rules would be banned from my class and Quidditch selections."

Then she wanted to take Neville to the infirmary to check the situation properly.

It is so that there is no hidden injury or danger.

Right then Jonathan called her.

“Madam Hooch, wait a minute....”

Jonathan said this and wanted to walk towards her with the Rememberall crystal ball.

But Harry and Ron the impulsive duo stepped forward and said.

“That is the Rememberall crystal ball of Neville, give it here and we will give it back to him when he returns.”

Harry said with an angry face with hatred clearly written on it.

Jonathan did not even bother to answer to Harry and Ron and walked toward madam hooch.

Then Jonathan gave the Rememberall crystal ball to her and asked her to give it back to Neville when he wakes up.

She looked at him appreciating.

Her prejudice towards Jonathan has already diminished more than half.

After that he returned back to the crowd without any emotional fluctuations.

It is as if he has not done something to be proud about but a normal thing to do as usual.

The surrounding students from both Gryffindor and Slytherin came to him and started to tell him how impressed they are.

At the same time some of them started to form friends with Jonathan.

Well not thick friends but superficial friends.

Even Pansy and her gang of bully girls also came to speak to Jonathan with a positive opinion.

With the two times of getting popularity bonus Jonathan is perfectly on the positive side 20 percent popularity bonus.

When it reaches 100 percent no one would believe even if he did something bad unless they saw it with their own eyes or proved it with evidence.

The starting is easy but the more he moves forward the slower the pace of improvement is.

100 percent popularity and trust is his goal that is needed for many of his future plans to work.

So Jonathan is working hard for this.

At the same time he received the rewards for his choice.

Well one of them from madam hooch, one from the surrounding people and the third from the system.

During the entire time Jonathan directly ignored Harry potter and Ron completely.

He did not even give them a reply for their words or retaliated against them.

It is as if they were treated as air.

This made Harry even angrier but he restrained himself from doing anything stupid.

On the other hand Ron directly hid behind Harry with red face because some people glared at them when they spoke to Jonathan like that.

The sarcastic and angry faces of others along with the looks of despise made him flustered.

So he could not show his face to others right now.

With this move of Jonathan the youngest seeker title that Harry should have was broken.

Based on his enquiry the system told Jonathan that Harry has master level of flying skill from the very start as hereditary bonus in the potter's family.

Jonathan would not let Harry enter into the Quidditch so easily.

As for his entry it is a different matter.

After the class Jonathan went to the hospital wing to find Neville that is still resting.

He spoke to Madam Poppy Pomfrey about the situation of Neville and even spoke to Neville before leaving.

Neville would stay in the hospital wing for the day to completely check the situation.

During the dinner time the deeds of Jonathan has spread throughout the school and the impression of people towards him has changed greatly.

There is no more piercing gazes towards him or anything else.

There are a few claps from people that appreciated his act of saving someone.

Professor Flitwick became interested in on how Jonathan casted the spell without being taught.

Technically this is a spell that requires wand movement.

Before joining the school they would not be able to get a wand.

Even if they wanted to use the wand of his parents, Jonathan is an orphan.

So where does Jonathan get the skill.

“Is it the talent in casting charms and spell?”

He muttered with shining eyes looking toward Jonathan that is calmly eating his dinner.

Chapter 21: the whistle blower

Chapter 21: the whistle blower

“Is it the talent in casting charms and spell?”

He muttered with shining eyes looking toward Jonathan that is calmly eating his dinner.

He did not have proper successors for his dueling champion title.

Even though he is small he has a big name.

He wanted to test Jonathan later to see if Jonathan really has good talent.

If he did have good talent then he would train Jonathan in spell casting and charm casting for some world tournaments.

This is what he is thinking looking at Jonathan.

Jonathan noticed his gaze but he did not feel any malice so he smiled back at professor Flitwick and then continued to eat some tasty food.

The cooking of house elves is very good and the salt and spices are to the mark giving the food some strong after taste.

Even though he is a villain, he likes cooking and would not put on airs when it comes to cooking.

He acts like a gentle spirit most of the times that acts as a cover for all of his evil actions and sinister thoughts.

Malfoy did not get to act during the flying class.

So he decided to compete with Harry now.

So he and his cronies Crabbe and Goyle came to Harry and Ron.

Jonathan on the other hand watched the show while eating chicken wings as if he was watching a movie.

Draco started to tease Harry and Ron on how they were ignored by Jonathan during the flying class and did not even bother to look at them. Both sides did not back down and Hermione looked at the incident with interest.

She tried to help calm Harry and Ron.

Unfortunately neither of them is listening type.

Instead they are impulsive type.

The tensions grew more and more.

Finally Draco that could not hold the pressure challenges Harry to a wizard duel and Harry accepts it without even knowing what it was.

Hermione tried her best to tell them dissuade them telling that this is breaking school rules.

But none listens to her words.

During this time Jonathan did not say anything to stop them or make the situation worse.

Sometimes, protagonist would create incidents that would put them in danger which is mostly inflicted by them.

When they solve them they would gain rewards and experience strange things.

After that they would proudly announce that they have solved the problem.

The brain dead IQ people would applaud for the protagonist for the solving the problem they created by themselves.

This is truly strange and the protagonists mostly did not require a system to get rewards.

Jonathan was envious of this point and he wanted to know how the brain of those protagonists works.

Well he is not in a hurry over anything.

While he is thinking Jonathan got a choice.

“Ding

Host, make your choice,

Choice 1: become the whistle blower and report on the duel agreement to professor McGonagall;

Rewards the transfiguration talent upgraded to the moderate level.

Choice 2: become the whistle blower and report on the duel agreement to professor Snape;

Rewards the potions making talent upgraded to the moderate level.

Choice 3: become the whistle blower and report on the duel agreement to professor Dumbledore;

Rewards the legilimency and occlumency talents upgraded to moderate level.

Choice 4: become the whistle blower and report on the duel agreement to Argus Filch;

Rewards chance of getting spotted during sneaking around would be reduced by 10 percent.

Choice 5: host can complete all the above choices.

This rewards the host with all the rewards along with extra 10 percent in all the talents that host possesses.

Also host might gain extra 20 house points.

.....”

At the house points scoring hour glasses there is a special place that shows, who cause the increase in points and who lost them.

This is the same for every house which would be easy for the students to recognize the people that did good and bad.

After dinner Jonathan did not return back to the Gryffindor common room.

Instead he first went to find professor McGonagall and explained the situation.

She has a name for being extremely strict.

That is she is stricter than professor Snape.

She did not just show that on the surface usually.

Jonathan went to her and explained the incident about the duel agreement between Harry and Draco.

She wanted to act impulsively just like any other Gryffindor.

After that he told her to not to act impulsively but to catch the people red handed.

Then Jonathan went to speak with professor Snape.

Well he did not like to be disturbed.

So Jonathan gave him the summary of the situation and also told him that he already informed professor McGonagall.

Then Jonathan went to professor Dumbledore's office.

Going into professor Dumbledore's office is tricky because you need a password to enter.

But Jonathan did not have this problem because of the strange names that professor Dumbledore put as password has a pattern.

Jonathan remembers these words from his mistress in the previous life.

He wanted to create a funny atmosphere to get her and he memorized them.

Now he recited them one by one continuously and one of them hit the spot.

When the spiraling steps appeared Jonathan stepped on and they took him to the top to the office of the head master.

Dumbledore was surprised that a first year student could come and even cracked his password.

Well it is not much of a puzzle to begin with.

A little logical thinking can solve the problem.

But the wizards are famous for the lack of logical thinking when it is most required.

So Dumbledore is surprised a little.

Any way he recognized Jonathan and knows that Jonathan is the heir of the black family.

Dumbledore is indifferent to most of the things and he was even sympathetic to Draco that comes to kill him.

Well his real thoughts are unknown.

So he did not directly Judge Jonathan.....

Chapter 22: chatting with

Dumbledore

Chapter 22: chatting with Dumbledore

Well his real thoughts are unknown.

So he did not directly judge Jonathan.

Instead he gave an opportunity for Jonathan to explain the purpose of his visit.

Jonathan simply told him about the dueling agreement of Harry and Draco tonight.

After he finished speaking Jonathan continued.

“I am not doing this to get any revenge or other things.

There is an intelligent girl named Hermione that is mingling with Harry and Ron.

She is a good person and I don't want her to be caught between the fight of the morons.

I am doing this for her.

I believe that Draco would never come out instead he wanted to use this opportunity to make them caught and get punished.

So even if professor Snape and professor McGonagall catches them the entire thing would be awkward.

Thinking of all this I came here to report this to you sir the head master of Hogwarts.”

Dumbledore became interested in one point.

That is Hermione is a muggle born witch,

Why would Jonathan that is from the black family, which is on the pure blood supremacy side, would want to save her?

Well he wanted to ask Jonathan directly.

The information that can be obtained through normal conversation would not require Dumbledore to use legilimency on Jonathan.

So he asked the same question to Jonathan.

“You from the black family should despise the muggle born wizards and witches right.

Why do you want to help Hermione?

Is there a reason for that?"

Jonathan smiled internally and told him the prepared answer.

"Professor, you should not this kind of question.

There is always right and wrong in many things.

Based on the history I studied muggles ones branded wizards and witches as evil and tried to exterminate us.

At that time the pure blooded families formed into a force that stopped the muggles from exterminating the wizards and witches.

They saved the wizarding society.

This has created the current wizarding society that is hiding from the normal world.

But when there is war there are losses of life.

This loss of life breeds to hatred and the hatred is converted into prejudice.

This is the difference between the pure blood families and the muggle born wizards.

Actually the muggle born wizards are also wizards from the same origin of the wizarding families.

What happened in the past has already happened and I cannot target someone that did not have any connection with it pay the price.

Hermione is a muggle born witch with good learning capabilities and understanding.

She needs to be well protected for the future of the wizarding world.

I as a wizard and a part of the wizarding world would not want to blame her or other muggle born witches and wizards for things that happened centuries ago.

Even though my grandmother specifically said about the pure blood supremacy, I do not agree with her.

May be because of my thoughts I was not selected into the Slytherin and was placed in Gryffindor....”

Jonathan mixed in truth and lie as he wanted to create a desired effect on Dumbledore.

It worked well.

Also Jonathan’s special mind protection charm is in his hanging around his neck as a pendent.

It was specifically given to him by his grandmother to keep his mind from being polluted by other people with magic.

As long as it was intact he doesn’t have to fear about Dumbledore peeking into his mind.

He has too many secrets that he cannot let Dumbledore peek in.

After the little talk with Jonathan, Dumbledore understood the nature of Jonathan and he became happy.

He just like others thought that Jonathan is a pure blood enthusiast.

But he found that Jonathan is not like that and still has goodness in his heart.

Also he divides a clear line between good and evil.

Dumbledore was very much satisfied with the words of Jonathan.

He did not have much doubt in Jonathan because he knows the life of Jonathan in Malfoy family and black family.

After the small chat Jonathan left the office of Dumbledore and came to Argus Flich to inform him about the incident during the night.

Flich told Jonathan that Draco has already informed him about this matter.

Since there is another person that told him about this, he became more determined to catch the students that wander around during the night.

With the entire thing set Jonathan returned to the dormitory.

He was not free.

For the protagonist everything would come to him quickly with opportunities and special chances.

But as a villain he has to earn everything with hard work.

So he started to study things during after dinner.

His home work is already completed that day.

Now he was studying and noting down the plot that he remembered during from his previous life.

It was useful to him.

There is no person in the world that can say that they have absolute memory.

Forgetting a plot would lead to many problems.

So he has to note it down and keep it safely in his special system space.

This way he would not have to worry about things suddenly happening.

On the other hand he studied other spells, charms, and things during his free time before sleeping.

He did not forget to exercise and do some strong physical workout during this time.

The fit body is needed in fighting in the future.

He learnt martial arts in his previous life for his safety.

Now he is relearning it again and adapting it to the body.

He is almost creating the muscle memory to make his body stronger other than being a wizard.

This took a part of the time every day.

The extra 5 hours that he got from the time turner are spent like this every day.

In the night Jonathan did not go out to check anything but he stayed in the common room sitting on one of the big chair near the fire pit reading a book.

Chapter 23: manipulative words of Jonathan stopped Hermione and Neville

Chapter 23: manipulative words of Jonathan stopped Hermione and Neville

The extra 5 hours that he got from the time turner are spent like this every day.

In the night Jonathan did not go out to check anything but he stayed in the common room sitting on one of the big chair near the fire pit reading a book.

On the other big chair Neville is sitting silently as if he was thinking something deeply.

When it was late and the curfew hours are started, Harry and Ron suddenly came down the male dorm rooms.

They are preparing to go to the trophy room to uphold their end of the deal in the wizard duel set between them and Draco.

Jonathan did not lift his head as he read the book during the time without saying a word.

Right then Hermione came out of the female dorms and tried to stop Harry and Ron from breaking the rules.

Neville also moved out of his chair and said a few words to Harry and Ron.

But Ron is like a little devil in the ear of Harry singing the song about the pride of a wizard and the duty to uphold their end of the deal for the duel.

Finally with no choice Hermione and Neville also wanted to tag along if something happens to Harry and Ron.

Right when they were about to leave Jonathan spoke.

“Hermione, Neville it is not good to go out during this time as it breaks the rules.

You can help other people and try to stop them from breaking the rules.

But you should never break the rules by yourself.

It would make the entire purpose of stopping other people useless.

So let them go and you stay back without breaking school rules.

You tried your best to stop them but and that is all you can do within your limits.”

Jonathan said without even looking at them as his face still looks at the book with a strong serenity giving the entire scene a picturesque appearance.

His voice was gentle and smooth and at the same time it is also firm and domineering.

Hermione and others were mesmerized for a few seconds.

Hermione thought what Jonathan said is true, Neville also thought the same.

In order to make his point more Jonathan continued.

'If you really want them not to break the rules, you can report them to the teacher.

This way they would be reprimanded and they would not think of breaking the rules in the future.

That is the best thing you can do for your classmate from going astray from the righteous path.

If they really wanted a duel then they can always approach their teacher and make an official duel agreement instead of sneaking in the night like thieves breaking the school rules.

As for upholding the wizard's honor, don't kid me.

We are still children around 11 to 12 years old.

We are not wizards yet and we should abide by the rules unless you are strong enough to stand at the pinnacle where the rules cannot stop you."

Jonathan said still looking at the book and with his final words he looked straight into the eyes of Neville and Hermione.

Even now he ignored Harry and Ron as if they are air.

The noble temperament of Jonathan and his words made Hermione blush suddenly.

She decided to not to go with Harry and Ron right now.

Neville also the same as he would not even remember the password to enter back.

So he directly abandoned the thought of going along with Harry and Ron.

Harry and Ron looked at Jonathan with anger, Ron snorted coldly and said.

"Being a pure blooded wizard and the son of a murdered is so cowardly.

Even his father also stabbed the back of the people silently like a coward instead of confronting them face to face.”

Jonathan finally looked towards Ron after the words that Ron spoke just now.

Ron knows that he was out of line.

But the face of Jonathan is not angry.

He just smiled at them, which is very normal and very friendly.

But Ron felt an invisible chill down his spine at that moment.

For him the smile of Jonathan was more deadly than the demon he imagined when he heard those ghost stories.

Harry did not notice this as the entire focus of Jonathan was on Ron.

Ron almost slumped on the ground from fear as his legs gave away.

But Harry pulled him and took Ron out of this Gryffindor common room.

After going out of this place Ron panted heavily and said to Harry.

“Thank you Harry, I felt like I was going to be devoured by a demon.

Even though he was just smiling at us, it felt scary.”

Harry did not answer as he has other thoughts in his mind.

When they came out of the common room the fat lady left for her evening stroll.

So even if they wanted to go inside they would not be able to because there is no one to open the door.

They don't know that they are being observed by Argus Filch and his cat, Mrs. Norris right now.

He did not catch them right away as if he doesn't want to say the excuse that they accidentally came out and fat lady left before they enter back into the Gryffindor common room.

He wanted to catch them red handed so he silently waited on the side.

On the other hand professor McGonagall and professor Snape met in the trophy room for the same reason as to catch Harry and others that might come.

Looking at each other they know that the matter was told to them by someone.

But neither of them thought that the other party was reported by Jonathan and pushed the blame to Draco subconsciously because Jonathan always acted as a good person.

The white villain would never be doubted by the plot line characters easily because of his character.

Chapter 24: the plot corrects itself

Chapter 24: the plot corrects itself

But neither of them thought that the other party was reported by Jonathan and pushed the blame to Draco subconsciously because Jonathan always acted as a good person.

The white villain would never be doubted by the plot line characters easily because of his character.

Dumbledore is not here in person but he can perceive the things and thought that Jonathan made an elaborate plan to catch Harry and his group.

But when he listened to the words of Harry in the Gryffindor common room through his magic eavesdropping through the fire, he changed his opinion of Jonathan again.

He thinks Jonathan is dangerous.

But at the same time he is playing within the rules and everything he said right now completely true.

Dumbledore even remembered his sister and some of his past mistakes with the words of Jonathan.

If Jonathan said this to him in the past he would not have made so many mistakes.

It is not like no one has ever said these to him.

It is just that he did not listen to their words.

While he is contemplating over the past, Harry and Ron moved to the trophy room where Harry saw the trophy related to Quidditch.

His father's name was on the trophy making him motivated towards Quidditch.

Both snake and McGonagall watched Harry and Ron going around and also listened to their conversation using the invisibility spell.

When they found out what Jonathan said is true they wanted to appear out.

But the voice of Dumbledore made them stop.

After that they left under his orders.

Flick was here following Harry and Ron.

He wanted to catch them but he could not because he was delayed by the enchantment of Dumbledore.

Both Ron and Harry noticed the small sounds and thought that Flick was going to catch them.

They started to run away while Flick chased with the cat.

The entire incident happened just like that in the original plot.

Harry and Ron realized that they are tricked by Draco.

They begin to hide and then run away.

Not sure where they are going, they accidentally end up in the forbidden area on the third floor, staring at a large and scary three-headed dog.

Well the door was originally locked and Hermione should unlock the door.

But this time Dumbledore has to help them with that.

Even though the three-headed dog Fluffy inside is dangerous it would not bite them.

It would only scare them.

He kept the dog here just to scare people and it was already ordered to only scare but not to eat.

Eating or biting or attacking the wizards or muggles would conflict with laws and rules for the magic beasts.

So it was only kept here to guard and scare the people.

Harry and Ron are safe.

Both Ron and Harry manage to get back to their dorm safely, though they are terrified.

They were not reprimanded by Dumbledore or anyone.

But the curiosity of Harry was aroused by pointing out that the dog was standing on a trapdoor.

The next morning, Harry and Ron are discussing what the dog could be guarding when the mail arrives.

Harry receives a Nimbus 2000, a racing broomstick, along with a note from Professor McGonagall summoning him to Quidditch practice.

Originally Harry would not be able to participate in the Quidditch because Jonathan disrupted the previous chance.

But last night when Harry was looking at the trophies of his father and his forefathers this immediately made Dumbledore realize the Harry might have a talent to become a seeker in the Quidditch team.

So he made the call and told professor McGonagall about this.

Jonathan that looked at the situation knows that the plot has returned to its original track.

But Jonathan did not see Lucius becoming normal.

This means that the plot only corrects the most important things but not the irreversible things as he did.

If Harry becomes impotent the plot might not take this into consideration or correct it.

His impotency did not have to do anything with him being the hero and fight the Voldemort.

But if Harry loses his wand then the plot might try to correct it.

This wand is required for the plot in many places for some important events.

Similarly he needs to participate in the tri wizard tournament later.

There and in few other places he used the broom to fly and do some important things related to the plot.

For that to achieve he has to learn how to fly and also have to fly very well.

So the plot corrected itself automatically.

Jonathan wanted to do few more things to check his theory.

For that he needs a lab rat.

Jonathan thought of using Percy in this matter as he is also a candidate for the foolish villain.

As for trying Jonathan would do that later.

Draco tells Harry that first-year students are not allowed broomsticks.

Draco then tries to report Harry to Professor Flitwick who just expresses admiration for Harry's father's talent having heard from professor Dumbledore.

They assumed that Harry might have the same talent and so they wanted to try.

Just to encourage him they sent him a broomstick of the latest model.

This time it was given by Dumbledore instead of professor McGonagall.

Harry and Ron showed pride when they looked towards Jonathan.

But they noticed that Jonathan is not even paying attention to them.

This made them a little embarrassed but soon their eyes reached the top of their heads with the stupid pride.

Hermione on the side is a little confused,

But later when she thought about the trophies about the seekers from the Gryffindor Quidditch team that achieved great results are from Potter's family.

With that she calmed down and looked at Harry and others.

Jonathan did not like Dumbledore meddling into the things.

So he decided to give a little twist into the things.

For that he used a type writer to write a letter.

Chapter 25: a letter to twist the minds of the people

Chapter 25: a letter to twist the minds of the people

So he decided to give a little twist into the things.

For that he used a type writer to write a letter.

Then he made a few copies of this using his grandmother's wand.

He also has his mother's wand that was hidden secretly and was given to him by his grandmother along with her wand.

Unfortunately no matter how many wands he has there is still trace on him instead of the wand.

So any magic he uses would be under the monitoring of the ministry of magic.

Currently he did not have enough power to remove the trace.

So he can only sigh about this and continue with what he was doing.

The letters were then sent by his Goldy to his loyal servant Kreacher and wily.

There is an extra letter attached to it with his instructions.

Immediately both the house elves, especially wily with his intelligence understood the idea of Jonathan.

His dark and cunning nature perfectly matches with Jonathan so he thought of becoming complete loyal servant of Jonathan like a personal butler for those muggles.

Well this is his fleeting thought but not a firm one.

He needs to observe Jonathan more to become his loyal servant.

Also he has gain the approval of Jonathan to become his servant.

So he decided to work harder.

Well he is not a paid employee right now.

Jonathan sent the letters.

The letters contain the information about how the broom stick is allowed for the first year for the selfish thoughts of Dumbledore.

It was to Harry Potter the savior that needed to be safeguarded instead of doing something dangerous and stupid at a young age.

This was sent to all noble houses along with the media and the ministry all over England through anonymous means of Wily and Kreacher.

It even spread out of the country.

It is not saying that Harry did not have the talent to fly.

It is saying that he is too young and might have accidents.

Being the savior many people don't want Harry to have accidents.

So the situation immediately boiled.

The news papers that got the news but did not receive any suppression from Dumbledore decided to publish this as quickly as possible.

This is because after Dumbledore and others find out about this they might suppress the news.

Also the news of the youngest Quidditch player is amazing.

If Harry really have an accident in this matter than the things would become strange later.

This is the plan Jonathan came up with.

Well he is a villain and this is child's play for him.

The situation where Voldemort in the back of the head of professor Quirrell cast a confusion spell that professor Snape stops can be best used in this situation later.

This is not all there will be an incident of troll entering into Hogwarts.

Jonathan is going to send this into the public eyes too.

For that the good camera man is required and Jonathan is actually going to use modern technology if possible.

He doesn't know if the pen cameras and other things are formed in this world or not.

If they formed then Jonathan would think of a way to get them and record the incident of the troll.

This is his thought and he mentioned it in the letter that he sent to Kreacher and wily.

They should be doing the things right now and Jonathan would see the results in a few days.

On the next day morning on September 20 many owls appeared in the great hall carrying news papers and letters.

There is one big one for Draco too.

It was also a nimbus 2000.

The face of Draco was brightly lit looking at the new broomstick that his father got him.

On the other hand the news papers have articles on how Hogwarts is pushing their savior to show talent in flying.

There are safety problems and much other nonsense.

Dumbledore got letters from the board that manages Hogwarts about the decision to make Harry participate in Quidditch at hat young age.

Also it mentioned that Harry was living in the muggle world for so long and did not have any contact with the magical world.

So for him to participate in Quidditch was really not good without proper practice and training for a year.

Both public and nobles along with many great wizards form within England and other countries that were connected to Voldemort before started to shot against Dumbledore.

Fudge that recently became the minister thought that the things are not right and don't know which side he should take in the current situation. Because taking the side of Dumbledore right now would cause his image to drop, while standing opposite to him now would lose his support from Dumbledore.

This time he made a choice to stand on the side of Dumbledore.

That is he bet on Dumbledore this time.

The reason why the mass public outrage was caused is because of the elaborate way of Jonathan explaining many accidents in Quidditch that their savior might face.

Some time hearing bad things or listening bad things about a person their want to be safe or a person with the similar name would cause people to feel anxious.

Jonathan used this very point to create the article in the letter that caused the current incident.

What Jonathan said is completely true but the possibility of that happening is magnified by him and he even wrote the consequences in the most horrifying way.

So the people started to boil at this.

Well that is not the only thing he said.

He made a special note that giving the preferential treatment to Harry over other students of the same age might create gap between them.

This way the savior Harry would be isolated in the school.....

The words of Jonathan would touch the concern of the parents, the thoughts of the critics and even the pride of the nobles.

Chapter 26: achievement reward

Chapter 26: achievement reward

This way the savior Harry would be isolated in the school.....

The words of Jonathan would touch the concern of the parents, the thoughts of the critics and even the pride of the nobles.

Can Dumbledore bear with all this?

Well he can really bear this and even come out victorious.

But it will definitely wear out some of his connections.

The more connections that Dumbledore loses right now would lead to more problems the order of the phoenix cannot solve.

At the same time the targets of Jonathan would be in dangerous situation without any support or protection.

At that time Jonathan can step forward to help them and gain some mutual benefits.

This is his plan from the start.

Now he is implementing the things step by step.

Because of all the troubles that Jonathan created but not pour oil in the fire to improve the troubles, Dumbledore solved them after 8 days.

But the result is that Harry would not be selected for Quidditch this year.

Just like normal times the new students can only participate in Quidditch selections in the second year.

Also the broomsticks of Harry and Draco were confiscated.

There is another good thing the broom stick nimbus 2000 costs more than 500 gold galleons.

For the shares that Jonathan has he would received at least 50 gold galleons on every broom that was sold.

For the brooms that both Draco and Harry got, Jonathan received 100 gold galleons as bonus.

But these brooms are useless for both Draco and Harry.

Even in the future Jonathan would not let them use the brooms with another reason.

When Jonathan achieved this result the system gave him a special reward.

“Ding

Congratulations host, for the act of villainy and successfully damage the chance of the protagonist and his supporter.

Congratulations host, you will be rewarded with your flying skill upgraded to master grade directly.

You will be able to fly at master grade flying skills on all kinds of magical flying devices of this world and other worlds.

.....”

Jonathan was really surprised to see that achieving something beyond the choice has this kind of benefits.

So he has changed his plans a little and started to think of a way to make the achievements that are higher than that of choices from the system.

There is another thing here that cannot be overlooked.

Dumbledore is not an idiot and he can tell that someone specifically pointed fingers at him and Harry.

Also that someone is in the school.

He doubts Jonathan for this matter directly.

But there is no suspicious activity from Jonathan during this time.

Since Jonathan did not cause anything major before he did not look at Jonathan specifically.

Jonathan knows that this would happen as he is the most suspicious person with the most negative points from birth, background and other things including motive.

Because of this Jonathan has already typed another set of letters related to the troll incidents and have already sent them.

He did the typing work in the room of requirements before in secret.

At that time he was not under surveillance.

In the letters he sent he already mentioned the information to both wily and Kreacher.

So they would complete the task on the next day of the Halloween.

There is no confusion in this matter.

Jonathan was smiling and he is actually practicing occlumency and legilimency on himself when he was free.

Also after he was done sending the letters he stopped using the time turner.

During this time he did not do anything that is out of order.

Well he usually exercises and does some common things on spell casting and wand movements....

These things are normal for a hardworking person that did not attract much attention to him.

So all in all, Jonathan is having free time in his hectic schedule of practice over the years.

The entire month of October Jonathan did not do anything out of order.

He acted just like everyone.

With that the suspicion on him was shifted to the mysterious person that is hunting unicorn in the forbidden forest.

Dumbledore thought that it was the remnant of the death eaters or some other dark wizard that has grudge against him.

It was the Halloween day that is 31st of the October.

Jonathan was ready.

Also during this time he changed his style a little and the green wand usually seen rotating around his fingers like a pin wheel.

It was like a childish mesmerizing act to attract attention of the children of that age.

Well it is understandable as Jonathan did not have any family and he seeks attention to prove his identity.

It made the other teachers feel pity towards Jonathan and even appreciated him a little sometimes for his efforts.

By himself Jonathan has gained over 100 points for Gryffindor during this time just by gaining the appreciation for his knowledge and efforts in various things.

Hermione admired him, Daphne loved him more.

Pansy on the other hand avoided him after his kiss on her cheek last time.

Well even if she speaks she would blush when Jonathan touches his lips looking at her.

So she started to avoid him more.

Harry and Ron are receiving help from Hermione in their studies without proper appreciation.

This created rift between them during this time and finally on the day of the Halloween Ron's words broke caused Hermione to become angry and broke the bond between them temporarily.

Just like the original plot Hermione became sad and cried all evening in the women's bathroom.

Jonathan came to the Halloween feast and completed his feast early.

Then came out of the great hall and walked towards the direction where Hermione is.

On the way he encountered professor Quirrell that is in full acting of his own.

Jonathan did not disturb him instead went along with his plan.

Before coming out of the great hall he heard someone asking where Hermione is and they told him the location.

Chapter 27: calling for professors

instead of saving people

Chapter 27: calling for professors instead of saving people

Jonathan did not disturb him instead went along with his plan.

Before coming out of the great hall he heard someone asking where Hermione is and they told that person the situation and location of Hermione.

Jonathan was there and listened to it.

This can be used as a way to escape from suspicion.

Jonathan waited in the corridor for a few seconds till he saw a troll coming towards the women's bathroom.

Immediately he turned around and went towards the great hall.

On the way he saw Harry and Ron that just passed by him with panicked faces.

They are going to save Hermione.

But Jonathan has other plans.

When he returned to great hall he immediately heard the sarcastic words of Percy.

"Hey what are you doing going around looking like a fool.

There is a troll out there going around.

Don't try to mess with others and kill people like your father.

Come and get in the line."

Jonathan became angry.

The people that scolded him before in his previous life have ended up in the situations worse than death.

Jonathan looked at him without any smile on his face.

He did not have time to bicker with Percy but Percy caught his hand while he was leaving to find professor Flitwick or professor McGonagall or other people.

Jonathan was stronger than other people for his age because of the constant training.

Percy on the other hand has good head weight but his physical power is far worse.

Jonathan directly pulled his hand, pulling along Percy to fall on the floor when Jonathan slapped on his face making him to fall while rolling.

Jonathan did not care about Percy as it was race against time.

He immediately entered the great hall and looked at the professors that are discussing something.

“Professors, I have spotted a troll going towards the women’s bathroom and Hermione is trapped there based on the words of some students.

Please come quickly.”

Jonathan said and he ran back toward the woman’s toilet.

While he is running he kicked Percy that was about to stand up to fall on the floor again.

Jonathan might not look like it but he has good amount of bone density making him weight more than kids of his age.

Hitting him at a specific angle with his intentions to hit can cause heavy damage to the opposite person.

So Percy got a strong hit from Jonathan and even broke a bone or two in his body.

The surrounding students of his class did not have a choice but to take him to infirmary while someone else took the remaining students to the common room.

This delayed the teachers for a few seconds and Jonathan reached the women’s toilet right at that time.

He came here right when Ron uses the levitation spell to lift the club from the hands of the troll.

Instead of Ron, Jonathan used the levitation spell which made Ron think that he succeed in using the spell.

“Wingardium Leviosa”

Hermione on the other hand standing on the opposite side saw Jonathan casting the spell.

Ron tried to move his wand wanting to move the club that is floating in the air.

But the club did not move.

He looked at the club just like the troll looking at the club with stupid face.

Well there is no particular difference between their expressions, except for their appearance.

They are both stupid.

“It is not moving.”

Also he did not understand that his spell is not the one controlling the club.

Hermione looked and Harry also looked at Jonathan finding that he is the one controlling the club.

Jonathan waved his hand and the club acted like a baseball bat and hit the head of the troll right on the top of his head.

Right at that instant, the professors that are few seconds late appeared at the entrance behind Jonathan.

They saw Jonathan using his levitation spell to use the club to hit the head of the troll and it was dead after that one hit.

They all know that Jonathan was good with this spell and even used it to save Neville before.

At the same time in the morning class of charms under professor Flitwick Jonathan shared his experience to help his class mates gaining another 10 house points.

Right now the actions of Jonathan did not seem dangerous but the actions of Harry and Ron are dangerous because they did not inform the teachers before coming to this dangerous place.

Professor Snape moved forward to check the troll confirming its death because of the heavy blow on its head causing its brain to be damaged and die on the spot.

The body of the 12 foot tall troll lay down in the women's toilet, almost occupying the entire place.

Hermione crawled out of the place with her messy hair.

Professor Flitwick that witnessed the entire incident started to praise Jonathan while professor McGonagall started to criticize Harry and Ron for their impulsiveness.

Hermione interjected with a lie to save Harry and Ron.

Unfortunately Jonathan spoke at that time.

“Miss Granger, you should not lie to professors when your life was just in a dangerous situation right now.

It might have caused the death of others too if it was not for me to call the professors here quickly.

Even then it was very dangerous.

You should not support the impulsive people because one day they might face the unthinkable because of this impulsiveness.

It should be corrected at the early age....”

The professors nodded their heads and even Snape looked at approvingly towards Jonathan this time.

Well he wanted nothing to happen to Harry but this Harry like his father jumps at everything he sees.

So he was angry with Harry.

But the words of Jonathan had clearly given him excuse to punish Harry to set him straight for his love lily.

Well he was even thinking of a way to turn Harry into a girl.....

Chapter 28: the preplanned troll

incident part-1

Chapter 28: the preplanned troll incident part-1

But the words of Jonathan had clearly given him excuse to punish Harry to set him straight for his love lily.

Well he was even thinking of a way to turn Harry into a girl with a potion and see if he would look like lily.

That is not all he even had thoughts of reviving lily using Harry as a medium.

Well he has many thoughts right now and he is not fully committed to Dumbledore's stupid suicide plan.

.....

With that Harry and Ron received punishment instead of being praised.

As for Hermione, she is just a victim and she was not punished for this matter.

Jonathan received 20 house points from the professors present, but Harry and Ron lost 100 house points.

That is 50 house points each which decreased the house score.

Jonathan doesn't want to lose the house cup but he doesn't want it to be obtained through the efforts of Ron and Harry.

So he shot off his mouth in a righteous way.

There not even a single point that professors or students alike can refute from the words of Jonathan.

So things are solved and Jonathan returned back to the dorm.

On the other hand Percy that was hit by Jonathan was actually placed in the hospital wing.

For this Jonathan was not punished because Percy's words have crossed the line already.

Jonathan did not say anything to the words of Percy other than trying to help Hermione and fellow students.

Jonathan's deeds have already spread around the school by the morning next day.

At the same time the information of the troll incident including the incident with Percy was spread throughout the magical world of the England.

Jonathan has already anticipated all of this and even predicted the speech of conversation when things are in the play.

Based on the personality of Percy he would definitely speak ill of Jonathan.

Even if he did not Jonathan would provoke him.

So the conversation between them even has some dramatic lines added to it and was sent around just like before.

As for the conversation between Jonathan and Percy, Jonathan did not add many lines and most of it was the words of Percy.

Well he was silent in reality at the incident.

But who cares about this matter.

Also who cares what is right or wrong and what is truth or lie.

They would not care if Percy really said those words or not.

All that cares is about the incident that happened.

This is the nature of the public.

At the same time Weasley family would be burnt because of this incident by their rivals.

Last night Jonathan received a choice.

“Ding

Option 1: spread the news about the troll incident and Percy’s words;

Host will be rewarded with the improvement of occlumency and legilimency to moderate level 50 percent completion towards proficient level.

Host will gain more popularity and recognition from the people.

Host will be doubted by the pure blood families as he helped in saving muggle born wizard Hermione, and blood traitors Harry potter and Ron Weasley.

The reputation of Hogwarts is damage to some extent and the connections of Dumbledore is reduced again.

The reputation of Harry potter as the savior would be damage with new image impulsive boy.

Option 2: do not spread the news of the incident of troll and Percy’s words

Host will become a little popular in Hogwarts that was not recognized by the outside world.

Host will be doubted by the pure blood families as he helped in saving muggle born wizard Hermione, and blood traitors Harry potter and Ron Weasley.

The stopping letter of host might be capture by Dumbledore and host would become a confirmed suspect for the previous incident.

.....”

Jonathan directly chose the first option.

It was all preplanned by him for things that were originally said in the consequences of his choice.

As for the reward in occlumency and legilimency was his bonus reward.

He did all this to gain benefits.

Will he let them go just like that?

Also he don't want to show signs that he is the one that is doing all of this.

Even though they still suspect him, good people would not act without proof unlike the villains that did not care about the proof.

So he would not do the stupid thing.

That night when he slept the improvements to his mind took place and his mind became stronger than before.

When he reaches master level in occlumency and legilimency then he don't have to fear lying in front of Dumbledore.

Also knowing the thoughts of other girls by reading their minds would become very easy for him.

That way he can get the girls with their willingness slowly.

He doesn't like to force other women to be with him.

He only likes the willing ones.

Well it will take time to convince them but it is all worth the efforts to slowly enjoy the fruits of labor.

On the other hand he would not care about men.

Well he is a man that likes women.

So naturally he hates men.

This includes his stupid father.

Well in the morning next day he went to the great hall for breakfast.

Hermione appeared close to Harry and Ron.

Their punishment is very simple.

It was a detention with professor Snape.

This was specifically arranged by Dumbledore that understood the situation and the persuasion of professor Snape saying that they are not good in potions.

This also convinced professor McGonagall.

So with that they became the lab rats in the cold dungeon for the next few days looking at the stern face of professor Snape.

As November begins the Quidditch season starts.

Unfortunately because of what Jonathan did Harry did not get to join the Quidditch team.

So he received glares from Harry and Ron.

As for Hermione she has a complicated look.

Even though she is a strict person by nature she is also adventures just like McGonagall.

Chapter 29: the preplanned troll

incident part-2

Chapter 29: the preplanned troll incident part-2

As for Hermione she has a complicated look.

Even though she is a strict person by nature she is also adventures just like McGonagall.

So she accepted and rejected the words of Jonathan last night.

Jonathan did not care about that and as he sat down to eat he saw Daphne that came over to sit opposite to him on the Slytherin table for breakfast.

She looked at Jonathan and smiled.

She heard about the incident and she is intelligent enough to understand that what Jonathan did is not without any thought.

She felt like Jonathan is planning the things and acting at the perfect time to capture the opportunity.

Jonathan also smiled back and ate something sending some flying kisses secretly towards Daphne to make her blush.

Right then the great hall has many owls delivering the news papers to the people that opted for them.

Dumbledore is already missing from the school already.

He is not an idiot.

From the last incident he knows that someone is playing with him.

So he went to check if the incident related to the troll that happened yesterday has appeared in the outside world.

As he expected, the papers were already printed the incident and wanted to sent it out early in the morning.

But Dumbledore used his connections and favors to solve the crisis.

Well many noble houses already know about this incident because of the name specific letters has caused even more problems for Dumbledore.

The information through word of mouth will also spread fast in the wizard world.

Well it is a small community and the number of news papers is also limited.

But there is another problem that Dumbledore ignored.

It is related to the letters that Jonathan sent to other nations news papers.

Jonathan is not only damaging Dumbledore but also Hogwarts as a whole.

The final result would still fall on Dumbledore that was the current headmaster of Hogwarts.

So the higher the damage to the Hogwarts receives the higher the damage Dumbledore receives.

The more Dumbledore loses his connections the more the order of phoenix and Harry potter loses their shelter.

Well they are already dying tree right now with many branches that have already fallen and rotten.

So with a simple breeze the big tree named order of phoenix would shake.

Jonathan is continuously creating storms for it to face.

Since the mother root that is the Dumbledore is still alive, it is managing.

The moment Dumbledore dies is the moment everything falls.

After Dumbledore uses all of his connections and favors right now, the others would not be able to use the favors in the future.

.....

Daphne that looked at the news almost sprayed the food that she ate.

But she controlled her emotions quickly with all the training that the nobles put her through from young age.

Well this is not the case for many other people.

It is especially so for the trio of Harry, Ron and Hermione.

The reason for this is the big article of Rita Skeeter about the yesterday's incident in a more complicated way.

It is said that Harry and Ron went to peek at the women's bathroom.....

Then they happen to meet a troll.

Also it said that Jonathan save the poor muggle born witch Hermione from getting peeked by Harry and Ron.

This was highlighted while the troll incident was reduced by a notch.

The incident of troll was dangerous but the incident of perverts is far more dangerous.

The title of a pervert as a public opinion is far more damaging to a man than being a coward that ran away from looking at a troll.

Now Harry and Ron got this title through the foresight and simple modifications of Jonathan.

The incident was actually modified by Jonathan before thinking that he doesn't want to be hero that just defeated a troll.

Instead he wanted to be a hero that saved the beauty from the lecherous perverts and a troll.

That would be truly fitting for a noble born person with pure blood.

Jonathan told wily and Kreacher to send these special letters specifically to Rita Skeeter and Lucius other than the letters that were normally sent.

This is a diversion tactic that Jonathan used to divert the attention of Dumbledore to the big incident where the small cracks with poison seeping inside were hidden.

So Dumbledore really stopped the big distribution of troll incident.

But Lucius that was already mad because of his dick not standing up was maddened when he thought of his rival's son Harry potter peeking at a beauty with another rival's son Ron Weasley.

As for other things he did not care.

Do not underestimate the power of a man that was mad at becoming a eunuch suddenly at his prime of age with a hot wife.

So the result is him spending his connections to make this other story spread like wild fire.

Those people promised Dumbledore not to spread the incident about the troll that is the information on the printed letter that they received.

But this did not stop them from reporting the other peeking incident.

With the money and connections that Lucius Malfoy offered Rita Skeeter and other were very much interested.

Rita Skeeter really wanted to find the person that has such a mind to drop off such a big thing on Harry and Ron.

But she could not trace out the letter back.

Not only her but even Dumbledore could not trace this back.

If Dumbledore really could trace the things back then he would have definitely traced many things in his past and stopped many things from happening saving his loved ones.

With that the Hogwarts was set on fire and the face of Dumbledore looked paler and tired.

He tried his best to contain the things but how much can he do.

This incident not only covered the information of Harry and Ron peeking.

It also contains the information about....

Chapter 30: silver tongue skill

Chapter 30: silver tongue skill

This incident not only covered the information of Harry and Ron peeking.

It also contains the information about many of the pranks and incidents of Harry's father.

Jonathan might be the son of a murdered while Harry became the son of a pervert.

With that the system gave another achievement to Jonathan.

"Ding

Congratulations host you have made a great achievement.

You have successfully given the title of a pervert to the protagonist and his supporter.

Host would be rewarded with skill silver tongue of moderate grade."

Jonathan can directly understand what his silver tongue but he wanted to see if there are any benefits.

Skill: silver tongue

Description: a skill that has the ability to persuade other to do the things that is in line with the wishes of the host.

Grade: moderate

Special effects: when kissing another person with the tongue the other person can never forget the tongue of the host.

The kiss is not only on the women's mouth.....

Jonathan was really shocked by the unexpected gain just now.

But he cannot use it for now.

Right now he has obtained many things and everything is improving perfectly with his precise planning.

This skill will be of great use to him in the future and he was thinking of improving it to master level or even higher.

Jonathan has a premonition that he is not going to just live in this one world and his future is limitless.

So he plans to improve his skills and knowledge as much as possible.

He being transmigrated to here with his memories is already a miracle.

So he was optimistic about the big things in the future.

.....

The breakfast time in the great hall became lively and most of the words are actually whispers.

All of them are looking at Harry and Ron.

Also they are looking at Hermione.

With the names of Harry and Ron the name of Hermione was also dropped.

Because it was not written that she thanked Jonathan for saving her.

Also it appears that she is keeping her distance from Jonathan for some reason.

This made people look down on Hermione.

The good opinion she built up has gone down the drain.

Well Jonathan did not care about that.

Soon the name ungrateful bitch was spread for Hermione.

Also the one that spread the name is actually pansy and her girl's gang to all the houses.

On the other hand whenever Harry and Ron appeared there are sounds of "Kyaaa..." from the girls.

Also there are eyes of disgust and movements of hiding from Harry and Ron.

Since Harry was not selected to become a part of Quidditch and Ron was not the one that defeated the troll, their reputation was not on the raising but it became a sheer drop.

With that the original popularity of Harry being a savior started to drop.

For this even Dumbledore cannot do anything.

On November 8th, Harry, Ron and Hermione saw professor Snape limping with clear tooth Mark on his leg.

Then they followed him because of their suspicion.

The only people in the staff room are Snape and Filch.

Filch is helping Snape to bandage a large wound on his leg that has been causing him to limp.

When the trio hears Snape say about sustaining the injury makes it clear he was bitten by Fluffy.

Harry connects Snape's conversation with Filch.

Snape talking to Argus Filch about the fact that the three-headed dog has attacked him, leaving a cut on his leg, which makes Harry and others even more suspicious.

Hermione don't know about the three headed dog as she was stopped by Jonathan before.

But now they explained it to her making her understand the thoughts of Harry.

During this time Jonathan did not make any suspicious activity.

He did not even use the time turner during this time.

Many people are angry towards him and any small thing might reveal his capabilities or thoughts.

Jonathan would not risk these things right now.

So he was careful.

He should be careful till the end of the month.

By then all the current commotion would die down.

On the next day that is 9th of November the Quidditch match between Gryffindor and Slytherin.

Without Harry being the seeker the Gryffindor team lost the match in the most disastrous way with many people injured from the aggressive play of Slytherin.

There is no swaying of the broom stick and the magic spell muttering of professor Quirrell and saving of professor Snape.

Hermione did not go to light the robes of professor Snape.

So the entire plot is gone completely differently in this Quidditch match.

On the other hand when the Quidditch match is over the trio of Hermione, Harry and Ron went to meet with Hagrid.

Harry tells Hagrid about Snape getting injured by the dog in the third-floor corridor.

Hagrid involuntarily reveals that the three-headed dog, Fluffy, is his, and that what the dog is guarding is a secret known only to Albus Dumbledore and a man named Nicolas Flamel.

Even though Jonathan is not here he knows what is going on in Hagrid's hut.

Well it was all nonsense and he does not care about them.

Instead he prepared about the things that can let him the gap created by Slytherin in house points after they won the Quidditch match.

He excelled during the classes and gained 100 house points for Gryffindor in the next 20 days.

With that the big gap that was created was covered by Jonathan.

Many people in the Gryffindor started to appreciate Jonathan about this matter.

The month of December started on that next day and Jonathan saw Draco teasing Harry.

Christmas is approaching.

Malfoy teases Harry about having to stay at Hogwarts for the holiday, as he does not have parents.

Harry, however, is looking forward to spending Christmas away from the Dursley's,

Especially because Ron is also staying at Hogwarts, as Mr. and Mrs. Weasley are going to visit Ron's older brother Charlie in Romania.

Chapter 31: pity and sympathy are greatest weapons for covering

Chapter 31: pity and sympathy are greatest weapons for covering

Harry, however, is looking forward to spending Christmas away from the Dursley's,

Especially because Ron is also staying at Hogwarts, as Mr. and Mrs. Weasley are going to visit Ron's older brother Charlie in Romania.

Jonathan is also staying at Hogwarts for the summer because he was not invited back to the Malfoy mansion till the summer break unlike Draco.

Well Jonathan doesn't care about that.

Draco not only teased Harry but also teased him.

He also said that Jonathan has freeloaded at his house for so long that he should not come back to their house anytime soon.

Many people looked at the entire incident weirdly.

This happened in the great hall and many people realized that Jonathan is also an orphan in a way.

His grandmother is dead; mother is dead there are no other black family members alive or close to him.

His father that he did not even see since birth is in jail.

So there is nothing left for him.

Also he is staying in the house of another person.

Harry that was also the great hall felt Draco as Dudley and Jonathan as Harry in Dursley's house.

He sees himself in Jonathan right now.

At that very moment many of his previous thoughts about Jonathan started to shake violently.

Jonathan never did anything bad to him.

Jonathan never scolded or teased him.

Jonathan tried to indirectly tell him that he should not go out during the dangerous times.

.....

The more he thought about that the more he felt that he was the one that originally wronged Jonathan.

Jonathan never did anything wrong to him.

Also Jonathan was as much as of an orphan just like him living in the house of others.

He realized that he might have really mistaken Jonathan over the time.

Even after all the things he and Ron said and did Jonathan did not say anything to him.

Jonathan never showed him anger either.

While Harry is realizing things, there is another person that realized the things too.

It was Hermione that thought bad about Jonathan.

She now understands why Jonathan tells her not to break the rules.

She thought that Jonathan was punished for breaking the rules in Draco Malfoy's house making him very particular about breaking rules.

This made her heart tight as she misunderstood him even after he saved her before.

All he did was to tell her not to break the rules the same way she said to Harry and Ron.

Even after saving her life she did not even say thank you to him.

Instead she avoided him more and more.

But Jonathan never said anything to her in both in front of her and behind her back.

Thinking of this she realized that the prediction of Jonathan has come true as she started to hate him without a reason.

Not that she realized is she started to feel the greatness of Jonathan and also guilt for not thanking him before.

On the other hand some professors and others that realized this also have different opinion.

But the most common thing is actually pity.

They pity him.

You know the greatest benefit of a man being pitied is the support of everyone.

Even politicians use the emotions of sympathy and pity on them to win the elections in most of the cases.

They would do many stunts to show that they are pitiful and gain sympathy of the people to make a lasting impression.

At the same time they would show that they are helping many people to gain the support of other voters.

Combining these two they would create a righteous image for themselves and win elections.

But knowing this is not enough one has to learn from this.

If a person can gain the authority to rule and trust of so many people with these simple two things, why Jonathan would let them go.

So he planned the things slowly and purposefully made Draco say those words.

Actually Draco has the habit of saying these words from few years ago.

This was done because of the provocation of Jonathan.

Well Jonathan doesn't have to work hard as Draco's original nature is like that.

With the simple plan and right timing and situation Jonathan's plan to make Draco utter those words was created and succeeded.

When hearing the words of Draco, Harry showed anger.

On the other hand Jonathan did not show any fluctuations.

It is as if he has heard these words many times.

This would deepen the thoughts of others about the suffering of Jonathan more compared to the suffering of Harry.

Well they did not see either of them suffer over the years.

But they just imagined based on the emotions showed by the victims of the same incident.

So Jonathan gained another benefits right now and any and all suspicion that he got during this time would be removed completely.

Even if there are remnants they would be removed by the time the Christmas break is over.

With that thought Jonathan became excited.

He went to Daphne to speak as they met in the place outside the castle beside the lake.

They sat side by side as Jonathan spoke.

“How are thing in the Slytherin.”

“It is fine.”

“Is there anyone that is trying to mess with you there?”

“No”

“That is good.

Have a safe journey back home.

If something happens write to me so that I will take care of it.

Even though I did not have any adults by my side I still have someone to help me take care of a few things....”

They conversed as they sit apart like friends and not like lovers.

Neither of them moved close to each other during their conversation.

She wanted to come close to him.

But being a girl she want to be reserved and did not lose the impression of Jonathan being a lose woman.

Finally their conversation ended and they are about to part ways.

Chapter 32: affection meter and mood check

Chapter 32: affection meter and mood check

But being a girl she want to be reserved and did not lose the impression of Jonathan being a lose woman.

Finally their conversation ended and they are about to part ways.

When they stood up Jonathan pulled her into his embrace and gave a kiss on her cheek.

This made her blush.

She did not expect Jonathan to do this.

As she was struggling to get out of his embrace Jonathan held her tightly and whispered in her ear.

“I really wanted to kiss those beautiful lips of yours.

But this is not the time yet.

I will do that when the time is right.”

Daphne stopped struggling and looked down with red face without daring to look into his eyes.

Jonathan kissed her forehead and then turned his head towards the side where there are few boulders.

Then he smiled playfully and said.

“I know you are there.

If you don't come here I will punish you.

I have both good punishment and bad punishment.

Good punishment is a secret while the bad punishment is that.

I will not speak with you anymore and I will not associate with you anymore.”

The hiding figure panicked and came out of hiding with red face.

It was the crazy tom girl pansy.

Daphne was shocked and she remembered the scene when he kissed Pansy on the cheek to make her quite down before in the train.

She is a girl with a mature heart.

She can understand the feelings of Pansy.

Also she is not opposite to Jonathan having only her.

The reason for this is actually simple.

She cannot hold back a person like Jonathan that has deep thoughts.

She is an intelligent person and she understands what is happening with the mind of Jonathan.

Also she doubts that the news about the troll, about Harry and other things were Jonathan's doing.

So this made her understand Jonathan deeply.

Also this is the very thing that attracted her towards being like Jonathan.

She feels that Jonathan truly loves her and he would never let her go.

Since it is like that she doesn't want Jonathan to leave other women either.

If she is Jonathan's queen she needs some people to take care of them.

Well she is gloriously calling them as concubines or lovers which are in her mind called as maids.

That is her thoughts and as nobility other than the main wife that is her Jonathan needs more women on his side.

She likes Jonathan to have more women this is so that he can gain more experience to satisfy her in the future.

Well her thinking process is different and she likes to dominate other women.

Her thoughts are twisted just like the thoughts of Jonathan.

For this very reason she was in the Slytherin.

But one thing is for sure that is she loves Jonathan very much and could not think of parting with him.

.....

Right before Jonathan called pansy over he received a choice.

“Ding

Pansy is looking at the close moments of host and Daphne.

Choice 1: let her watch and leave without carrying about her.

Her thoughts about host would turn into jealousy and hatred towards Daphne.

Choice 2: call her over and let her take the initiative to get a kiss from you on her cheek.

Host would be rewarded with affection and mood meter along with the obsessive love of pansy.

.....”

For this Jonathan chose the second option and he called her out.

As for the thoughts of Daphne, Jonathan knows that she would not mind.

If she minds it then she would have already asked or scolded him before when he kissed pansy in the train.

Since she did not ask, it means that she has other thoughts.

Pansy walked over slowly to Jonathan and Daphne is standing.

Jonathan did not let go of Daphne.

But he opened up his arm and took the hand of pansy suddenly startling her.

Then he pulled her into his arms while still holding Daphne with the other hand.

When pansy got close to him, Jonathan straight away kissed her on the cheek and said.

“This is your good punishment.”

Jonathan said looking straight into her eyes and then he wanted to let her go.

But Pansy is in a dazed state and she held on to Jonathan without letting him go.

Daphne looked at this and she also did not let Jonathan go.

On the other hand Jonathan got the affection meter and mood indicator.

Also the information of the level of affection was also mentioned.

1-20 points means acquaintances

21-40 points means known each other or basic trust

41-60 points means affectionate or starting love

61-80 points means love in any form pure trust

81-95 points means deep love and complete trust

96-100 points means obsessive love and absolute trust.

As he looked at Pansy, the affection meter showed that she is at 96 points directly.

Jonathan doesn't know why her affection towards him is so high.

Also it shows that she is in obsessive love with Jonathan.

Jonathan has to take his time to ask her why she loved him so much.

He even though that he missed something that caused Pansy to become so obsessed with him.

On the other hand when he looked at Daphne,

The affection points show that she is at 98 points.

Well this doesn't have to be guessed.

Jonathan gave them another kiss on their cheeks and then sent them off.

As for how they decide to share Jonathan between will be left for them to decide.

While returning he saw Hermione that was leaving to Hogsmeade station to return back to England to go back to her home for Christmas.

Jonathan looked at her and found that her affection towards Jonathan is only 34 points.

Her mood is complicated and it says that she is feeling guilty towards Jonathan.

Jonathan can guess the reason for this is about the words of Draco before.

Chapter 33: ritual, magic circle

Chapter 33: ritual, magic circle

Her mood is complicated and it says that she is feeling guilty towards Jonathan.

Jonathan can guess the reason for this is about the words of Draco before.

He did not wait for her to speak and directly walked away without even taking a second look at her.

She has to feel a little more and these thoughts should be imprinted in her mind right now.

It should be useful for him in the future.

Hermione did not know how to speak to Jonathan and can only see the back of his lonely figure as he walked towards Hogwarts.

Hermione slumped down her shoulders and walked towards the Hogsmeade railway station to return back to England.

Her mind is in turmoil and there are many feelings mixed in.

Even though she is proud girl that is into studies, she has good amount of emotional intelligence too.

After she left Jonathan returned to his dorm and continued with his studies and practices.

He has one important thing to complete during this time when he was free from all restrictions.

That is his house elves wily and Kreacher have obtained enough materials to go through a ritual to improve his body connection to magic.

Also this would improve his physique to the next level.

The materials are many rare herbs and materials.

The black family has a special ritual book that can let him completely absorb the special herbs and materials and integrate it into his body.

For that he has to create a magic circle with the blood mixture of specific beasts.

He got all the required materials that are missing from his collection of the black family and Goldsman family from the house elves wily and Kreacher.

He just got them in the morning that day that was brought by Goldy.

That night he put a dummy in sleeping position and went to the room or requirements.

He successfully sneaked to that place.

He has an extra pair of dresses, uniform and other things in his space pockets in the system space.

The materials were also placed inside.

After entering the room of requirements he started to take out the materials and inspect them.

But before that he placed few rune symbol engraved copper sheets on four sides of the room.

The room he imagined is a big place that can let him perform a ritual along with a spring water bath to the side.

These rune symbols are used to seal off the place so that others would not be able to peek in without his permission.

Unfortunately these rune symbols would not last forever.

There is specific number of usages.

They were already used before by his predecessors and there are only few times of usage left.

But Jonathan did not care about that.

Once activated it would last for 12 hours straight this place within the barrier would be detached from the outside world.

After checking the materials he started to draw the magic circle based on information in the book of rituals from the black family with the blood.

He slowly started to draw the circle that took him over an hour.

When he is done with the process there are two big concentric circles filled with runes.

Inside the circle the lines are drawn to connect two more circles touching each other that are connecting with each other with runic lines.

It is like placing two discs connecting each other in a basket.

Jonathan placed all the materials that he brought into one circle where materials are needed to be place.

In that materials circle there are many small circles that are perfectly the materials that Jonathan brought connecting each other with runes and lines.

Then he stripped off his clothes and sat on the different circle connected to the materials circle.

Then he started to make hand signs and speak out complicated words of the runic language to activate the magic circle.

With his changing the magic circle started to activate.

As soon as the magic circle is activated the materials in each of the smaller magic circles started to melt into strange liquid of their respective colors.

Then each of these materials started to move through a different runic line and started to mix with different materials at various compositions.

This is the good thing about magic circle.

The mixing of various materials was done so naturally that there is no problem with specific mixing to be done by hand.

This slowly continued to mix and finally a strange metallic liquid with the tint of blood color with golden and black hue formed in the materials side.

Then the liquid followed the lines to enter the circle where Jonathan is sitting.

Immediately the liquid made contact with his body.

Jonathan felt an intense pain as if his skin, nerves and bones are melting.

But he did not flinch with strong determination in his eyes.

Slowly the liquid climbed up his body covering him completely with a coating of this metallic liquid.

The step by step pain made Jonathan wanted to stop the process but stopping the process now would completely make him into that of a normal human from a wizard.

This is the price for this kind of rituals.

Once started he has to complete the ritual till the end and if not the magic would never work for him.

He gritted his teeth as his face was slowly covered by the liquid completely covering his body.

This process continued for hours and during this time he sat there like a rock feeling the intense pain.

But then the pain changed into warmth and his body felt strange.

The bones, muscles, nerves, skin and senses all started to become strong.

Now he felt more connected with the magic and even his body felt strong.

He is currently entering the pubic phase soon in few months.

So his body is preparing for the maturity process.

During this time the improvements are very important for his future achievements.

new changes

Chapter 34: ritual is completed, new changes

So his body is preparing for the maturity process.

During this time the improvements are very important for his future achievements.

.....

On the outside his body looked like a metal statue covered in red metallic material with golden black hue.

The glow lasted for 8 hours straight and Jonathan suffered for few hours inside.

After that he only felt comfortable.

After 8 hours the metallic statue slowly shook for a little while and then cracks appeared on it.

Its metallic glow is gone and it started to become something like sand.

But this sand did not have any nutrients.

It is just a common sand or dirt that could not grow anything including grass.

The cracks crumbled into this sand and it revealed the body of Jonathan that went through the process of magic rebirth.

His body looked normal but there is a small flow of air about his body.

It is not air but the magic concentration on his body.

This was the proof that his ritual is successful.

But there is still another step which usually people ignore.

The magic mass that is surrounding his body is an excellent thing to improve his body.

With his magic mass carefully absorbed and integrated into the body the strength and potential of the body and magic would improve by over 10 times.

This is an ancient ritual and many wizards have performed it.

But only a few have ever completed this forgotten last step.

Those wizards are magic warriors instead of just wizards.

Their body is excellently strong and they are inherently powerful compared to many wizards.

The reason why Gryffindor, Slytherin are powerful is because of many rituals that they went through to improve.

Each ritual was costly and consumes many magical treasures.

Jonathan has already consumed over 10 percent of the resources that he got from the black family and Goldsman family.

The materials that are brought by his house elves wily and Kreacher are just small about of auxiliary materials that needed to be freshly obtained with small life period.

That is the reason why he told them to buy them now.

With the ritual done he say straight and started to chant a different runic string of sounds making the secondary magic circle activate.

Immediately a vast amount of magical energy started to flow into the magic circle but the sublime process is soft.

That is only experience people would notice the magic flow.

Today Dumbledore is not in the school.

This is the main reason why Jonathan did this process today.

The magic started to enter his body creating a second round of pain which is like being pierced by needles.

But the pain only lasted for few minutes before his body started to strengthen with the magic hue on his body.

It slowly but completely integrated into his body.

It took him another 2 hours to complete before his body was covered with slimy sweat.

His body now has outlined the strong sets of muscles that a highly trained man should have.

There is no buffed up muscles.

But everything about his body has explosive power residing in them.

Right then his grass wand that was placed on the side started to twitch and went to his body.

It is like it resonated with him and strange life energy flowed into his body from the wand.

With the life energy entering Jonathan literally moaned from pleasure.

Finally after 11 hours of continuous efforts he has completed the ritual and he was very strong right now.

He might not be able to bend a solid steel bar.

But he can really do some solid damage to human body and break some solid bones.

Also he can bend some steel rods that are hollow, his skin is stab proof.

That is if he was stabbed by normal people but not specifically trained people.

.....

Jonathan looked at his grass wand that came to him and smiled.

He felt a strong connection with the wand right now.

He put the wand back to the side and went to take a bath.

His body felt sticky from all the sweat.

After washing up he put on his casual dress and packed all of his things.

Then he went to out of the room of requirements using a normal invisibility cloak and went to his dorm.

The people are still sleeping as it was holidays and the climate is cold.

After packing up the things he went to the lake outside and looked at the serene lake and started to paint some drawing.

For other people this is a hobby, but for Jonathan this is a special training.

He is training, simple but smooth movements of wrist.

Firmness in grasping a wand or a weapon,

Delicate but precise strokes.....

This is what he is doing while giving out an illusion of painting.

He painted for 2 hours and appeared in the eyes of many people that came out to do various things.

They did not leave but came over to look at his painting.

Jonathan with his changed body looked extremely handsome for his age and can make many women throb with the artistic image of him painting by the side of a lake.

It is not only the image that he draw looked picturesque but his entire being and drawing looked like an image on its own.

The girls are literally drooling at Jonathan but he is still 12-13 years old so they could not make a move being seniors.

But they still wanted to give it a try.

The devilish temptation their hearts are having is very hard for them to bear.

So they are preparing some things to target Jonathan for this Valentine's Day.

They already forgot that Jonathan was the son of a murderer called Sirius black.

Instead they remembered him as a handsome, brave, kind hearted gentle man that fought against a troll to save an ungrateful girl that did not even thanked him.

Chapter 35: plans to get the study

notes of Nicolas Flamel

Chapter 35: plans to get the study notes of Nicolas Flamel

They already forgot that Jonathan was the son of a murderer called Sirius black.

Instead they remembered him as a handsome, brave, kind hearted gentle man that fought against a troll to save an ungrateful girl that did not even thanked him.

Harry and Ron also saw the scene looking at the crowd at the lake.

They were mesmerized by the image they are seeing.

Jonathan did not stay there for long as he left after completing his delicate workout for hand movements and control.

After that he went to take a quick bath and then he went to have breakfast.

Today he was a little exhausted with ritual all night last night.

His body needs time to adapt to the new changes.

Also he needs rest to completely recover.

Even though he became strong he needs time to recover after such a long process of improvement.

After breakfast he came to sleep on his bed without carrying about anything.

.....

He woke up in the evening and took another comfortable hot water bath.

Coming out he felt very refreshed.

He went to eat something in the great hall while Harry and Ron are suffocating in the library to find who Nicolas Flamel is.

Jonathan did not bother with these people as he has his own things to do.

As for the philosopher's stone Jonathan has other plans to get that later.

He was also thinking of getting the notes of Nicolas Flamel so that he can understand the secrets of alchemy.

For that he already thought of some things and went to library.

He is going to see through some books and write few letters to Nicolas Flamel to gain his favor.

When he received the letters from Jonathan he would most definitely ask Dumbledore about this.

Since he trusted Dumbledore enough to give his philosopher's stone to him, Jonathan was sure that he would definitely ask Dumbledore about him.

So Jonathan has to change the opinion of Dumbledore towards him during this time.

Dumbledore did not have any bad opinion of him but he has some doubt of the past incidents.

But now they all proved to be wrong.

He knows that Jonathan cannot see through what would happen in the future and arrange things so perfectly before anything happens.

Even he cannot see through future and he has never heard of an artifact that can see through future.

So the only thing left that there is a rogue in the school that was planning things behind his back.

With that his suspicion of Jonathan is gone.

He also heard the words of Draco and thought that Jonathan is pitiful.

This was already in the plan of Jonathan and now he is going to take another step forward.

Dumbledore is very good in many things but even he is not perfect.

Jonathan went straight to the library and then started to rummage through the books on alchemy.

After his magic improvement which improved his spirit and body, he was able to read the books much faster.

Also his comprehension of information has increased by many levels.

He already has comprehension skill that is at master level before.

But now it has improved by over 20 percent above master level.

There is god level above master level but the improvement is hard to obtain.

Right now the ritual has improved magic affinity which is related to his spirit rather than his physical body.

So it has permanent effect on his spirit.

This led to the improvement of his skill related to spirit.

Don't take 20 percent as little improvement because this 20 percent is letting the skill reaching to the god level which is very powerful.

Harry and Ron were also in the library but when they looked at Jonathan that is rummaging through the books related to alchemy at a speed like paper flipping they were shocked.

They instinctively thought that Jonathan is mocking them.

Jonathan did not care about what they thought as he went through book after book.

There is one more thing he specifically did with his gentle hand movements.

Even though he is flipping through the books at a faster pace his gentle hand movements did not cause any damage to the book.

Also his care towards the book as if they are treasure has made madam

Pince look up to Jonathan.

Jonathan held the books and handled them as if he was talking care of little children.

This was also in his calculation where he would get good impression from her too.

The need here is that she would not even let Dumbledore take a book out of the library.

Making good impression on her was also necessary to gain some benefits from her

After reading the books Jonathan started to make some notes.

This note has the list of questions that he can ask those professors and later get connected to Dumbledore because they cannot answer him.

From Dumbledore he can talk to Nicolas Flamel.

The detailed plan would only require him till the end of the holidays and before the school opens.

Even before that he can contact Nicolas through letters and cut the things from both sides.

By the time it was night that is around the dinner time his research is completed.

First of all he went to pester professor McGonagall that is good with transfiguration and then he went to pester Snape that is good with potions.

But they could not answer him because their expertise is not in alchemy completely.

On the other hand they suggested him to go to Dumbledore to ask these questions.

Well Jonathan's enthusiasm has won over their thoughts.

They cannot just say no to a student that is trying his best to learn.

Jonathan went to meet with Dumbledore after dinner.

Dumbledore was surprised to find that Jonathan came to visit him.

But after finding that Jonathan wanted to have clarifications to his doubts in some subjects Dumbledore acted like a qualified teacher.

Chapter 36: switching the real invisibility cloak with fake invisibility cloak

Chapter 36: switching the real invisibility cloak with fake invisibility cloak

Dumbledore was surprised to find that Jonathan came to visit him.

But after finding that Jonathan wanted to have clarifications to his doubts in some subjects Dumbledore acted like a qualified teacher.

Jonathan started to shoot off his questions in alchemy that professor McGonagall and professor Snape failed to solve for him.

Dumbledore looked at the alchemy questions and he became interested.

In the past few days he is having problems to solve that are related to Harry and Ron.

So he was exhausted about the daily affairs.

On the other hand it was subject related problems which is easy to solve.

It was actually human nature when they saw some big unsolvable problem which took all of their efforts and then made them do some small simple problem their attitude would change.

It is like using hard work to climb the stairs but when descending it made them feel very relaxed.

This is the feeling Dumbledore has right now.

The person that caused this feeling would naturally receive the positive response.

That night Jonathan wrote a letter to Nicolas Flamel about how he was a fan of his work and few other things.

Jonathan did spoke to Dumbledore about alchemy and discussed many things giving a sense of pride and happiness to Dumbledore.

.....

On the next day Dumbledore received a letter from Nicolas Flamel that only of the students at Hogwarts wrote him a letter.

Jonathan wrote the letter in a way that he did not admire Nicolas Flamel instead he admired the knowledge that Nicolas Flamel has.

This point was picked up by him and he became impressed.

Now he wanted to meet Jonathan.

But before that he wanted to ask Dumbledore to know more about Jonathan.

Dumbledore was dumbfounded because Jonathan moved too fast.

But when he read through the letter and the enthusiasm of Jonathan made Dumbledore think that Jonathan has passion towards the alchemy.

So he gave back a response to Nicolas about Jonathan and explained the situation of Jonathan to him.

Nicolas got the letter on that very day and started to think of various things related to the black family.

But Jonathan was innocent in this matter.

So he decided to test Jonathan first and see if he would be suited to carry his legacy.

He has already tested all of his descendents, disciples, talented people.....

But he did not find a person that can carry his legacy in alchemy.

So he did not have a successor till now.

Also he decided to end his life in a year or two as he already gave the philosopher stone to Dumbledore to destroy it.

So he did not have much time to live and he gave up on the successor thing.

But now when reading the letter from Jonathan, his hope came back to life.

With the reply from Dumbledore he became even more interested in Jonathan.

Jonathan's family circumstances are complicated.

Also his life after the death of his grandmother is to stay in Malfoy's family.

Dumbledore specifically mentioned the words of Draco to show the situation of Jonathan.

Well these words took a strong root in the hearts of the listeners.

It is an irrefutable fact that they cannot refuse.

Jonathan did stay in the Malfoy's house.

They cannot refuse that so they did not say anything to Draco before.

Sympathy would increase the good opinion when it is required.

Jonathan's emotional opinion foundation for the surrounding people is very strong with his step by step planning.

With that he was easily approved by Nicolas Flamel.

Jonathan was invited for the Christmas dinner at his house.

Dumbledore would accompany Jonathan there.

Then Nicolas would test Jonathan to see if Jonathan was capable to become his successor.

Jonathan was very happy to go.

Slowly time passed by and it was already December 25th early hours.

The gifts have already been put at the place of the Christmas tree of each dorm room.

Jonathan woke up very early so that he could switch real invisibility in the package with his normal invisibility cloak.

He has already used magic to remove all kinds of traces from the invisibility cloak he has and he used his mother's wand for this.

There is no trace that it belongs to him or the black family.

Also this invisibility cloak looked very similar to the real one.

Jonathan went to the packaging area and first opened the package related to Harry that has the invisibility cloak and replaced it.

Then he sealed it with a repair spell and made it look like it was before.

After that he stored the real invisibility in his system space separately.

As soon as he got the cloak he got a notification from the system.

"Ding

Congratulations host for obtaining an ancient invisibility artifact of high grade.

Host replacing the invisibility cloak did not have any impact on the plot proceedings.

So host would not receive any extra benefits from the system."

Jonathan was shocked to know this information.

Since there is no change in the plot or problem for the protagonist,

Jonathan would not be given special benefits that a villain should get from the system.

Jonathan sighed at this moment and then he went back to sleep.

Jonathan did not check the gifts that he got and he also sent gifts to a few people that he is close to.

It was a cold day and he was having a good time sleeping.

If not for stealing the real invisibility cloak, he would not have woken ups so early.

He woke up late that day and after he woke up he got a call from Dumbledore.

Jonathan doesn't know why he was called.

He dressed up and went to the head master's office to speak to Dumbledore.

He already got the password for the spiraling stair way.

When Jonathan arrived he saw the phoenix on the small bird stand that is looking beautiful.

Jonathan came to it and looked into its eyes.

Chapter 37: Dumbledore sees the image of his dead friend in

Jonathan

Chapter 37: Dumbledore sees the image of his dead friend in Jonathan

When Jonathan arrived he saw the phoenix on the small bird stand that is looking beautiful.

Jonathan came to it and looked into its eyes.

It is also looking at Jonathan.

He has a strange sense of closeness to it because they both possess one of the attribute that is common between them.

It is the endless life energy that mixed in with his body and soul from his wand in the ritual before.

He doesn't know but his heart now has a green layer that is mixing with his blood.

This is the source of energy from the druid heart.

Whenever his heart beats this energy would pass on to his blood and circulate around his body strengthening it on its own.

It is absorbing the life energy from the surroundings in minute quantities just like a grass root and injecting it into his body.

His body is being vitalized.

If this continued, in a few years he can become a walking ancient tree with full vitality.

Well he will not have bark, branches and leaves but he would look young, strong in both fight and in bed and few more special things.

Jonathan was interested in alchemy because of the long life and few other secrets related to the magic origin.

Everything in the world is formed through mixing of elements made up of complicated minute runes.

There runes are not in symbolic form but are in the form of energies like the things explained in Einstein's string theory of energy.

This is the most basic form of known energy in science that he already knows and combined with the magic knowledge.

But if he wants to find the exact knowledge then he has to start by stepping into alchemy to know the origin of the runic symbols.

Sometimes you have to check something that is seemingly completely unrelated to find the solution for a problem.

Jonathan is currently doing that now.

The big phoenix slowly pecked on to a nut of some sort, broke it and gave it to Jonathan.

Jonathan is not a harmful or a person filled with killing intent.

He is a villain but a civilian one at that.

If it is not required he would not make any move to show his hostility or killing intent.

Well even if he is angry he would never show killing intent but the malice can be felt.

The phoenix did not feel any malice from Jonathan,

On the other hand it felt closeness to Jonathan because of the vitality that Jonathan has which is similar to it.

It stands between the life and death while Jonathan possesses strong life energy that attracted it.

It gave the nut it cracked to Jonathan as a friendly gesture.

This is largely different from when Harry had contact with this phoenix.

Jonathan took the nut and in return he gave it a big red fruit called jumbo cherry to it to eat.

Phoenixes are said to be herbivores so they like fruits and nuts but not meat.

While they both are enjoying their conversation with their sign language and some treats, Dumbledore arrived.

He was actually feeling strange because he felt that he has seen his friend in Jonathan.

It was his close friend that was a muggle but researched on many magical beasts.

Sadly his life span is not long like the wizards.

He was gone but the way Jonathan is talking with his phoenix is exactly like his friend would do.

This took him back into the past and finally came back to the reality.

Well Jonathan did not do that intentionally.

In the past life after he was betrayed and he transformed into a villain he was close to animals.

At that time he believed that beasts are more loyal to him than humans.

He petted many beasts from dogs to lions;

There are even crocodiles and hawks in his pets.

Till his death he was never betrayed by them.

Even the snow fox he treasured in his pets that is known for its cunningness has never betrayed him.

This closeness to the beasts is helping him right now too.

Finally Dumbledore arrived down and Jonathan noticed Dumbledore.

He stopped his little things with the bird and looked at Dumbledore.

“Nicolas has written a letter to me saying that he wants to meet you.

He wants me to bring you to Christmas dinner today.

Do you wish to go?”

Jonathan immediately nodded his head and he was very happy to go.

He acted more like a child of his age.

Dumbledore was amused and told Jonathan to go and prepare.

They will be leaving in the evening.

Jonathan was happy that his plan has succeeded.

Before leaving he told the phoenix that he would bring it something good later or it can come to visit him later for a treat.

Jonathan wanted to prepare a gift for the phoenix just like he got one for Goldy.

He already sent gifts for both wily and Kreacher.

For wily, Jonathan sent it a new dress along with a letter telling it that it was free and it can work for him if it wanted to.

Also there is a little money along with the letter in the cover for it as the bonus salary.

It was really moved into tears and Kreacher it.

Jonathan authorized them to have wine and some goose for Christmas dinner from the family account money that he left for them.

So they are having fun with extra big meal.

Usually they eat cheap food or leftover food.

But today they are having a king's meal.

This made them determined to be with Jonathan more and more.

That is not all Jonathan sent two bracelets to the two girls with good designs, one for Daphne and the other one for pansy that is in love with him.

He got some gifts from them too.

His Goldy received some good treats from him that are its favorite.

Chapter 38: Christmas dinner with Nicolas Flamel

Chapter 38: Christmas dinner with Nicolas Flamel

He got some gifts from them too.

His Goldy received some good treats from him that are its favorite.

The extra left with him were given to the phoenix today.

Jonathan did not give any gifts to Malfoy family or Hermione or any other person that he did not like.

After Jonathan got ready he was taken to the house of Nicolas in the evening.

Dumbledore has other things he wanted to take care of during the night.

The house of Nicolas Flamel is very normal just like the house of slug horn.

In the house only the old couple of Nicolas and his wife live.

There is an old house elf called merry that is working here.

Dumbledore introduced Jonathan to Nicolas and Jonathan acted very politely without showing any airs of the black family or nobility.

Nicolas nodded inside his mind.

They went to have a dinner directly.

The dining table is full with various rare dishes.

Jonathan was happy to eat.

Well humans earn money for two main things not matter what they say.

It is to eat good tasty food and to sleep comfortably.

These are the most primary needs that any person wants to have.

So Jonathan perfectly enjoyed his every meal and gets the full sleep he wanted not matter what happens.

Well he did this as much as possible for him to have.

During the lunch he did not act like a hungry ghost but he did compliment the dishes that he liked and ate without showing much modesty.

Naturally the old people thought that Jonathan did not get to eat good dishes during his time at Malfoy family.

This increased their pity towards him and this in turn increased their closeness towards him along with good impression.

Even Dumbledore has different thoughts.

Sometimes it is not big things but some minute details would cause big impact when it matters the most.

Finally the dinner is over and the group went to the hall to have desserts.

Right then Nicolas started to talk to Jonathan one on one.

“Mister Jonathan, did you like the dinner?”

Jonathan modestly said.

“They are very well made, thank you for the treat sir.”

Jonathan said with puppy dog eyes and innocent face.

A villain needs to be able to produce many expressions at moment's notice so that he can change the situations and make people trust him more.

Then Nicolas asked another question about Jonathan's letter and his interest in alchemy.

Jonathan then started to explain about his thought on alchemy and his littler understanding.

For his age his understanding of alchemy is already great.

So Nicolas was satisfied with the response.

Dumbledore was also satisfied with the response too.

But there is still one more point that Nicolas has to ask Jonathan to make sure that Jonathan is of right character.

“Mister Jonathan, do you know about the philosopher’s stone.”

Jonathan nodded his head and started to explain what he knows.

“The Philosopher's Stone was a legendary alchemical substance with magical properties.

This ruby-red stone could be used to create the Elixir of Life, which made the drinker immortal, as well as transform any metal into pure gold.

The only known stone in this current era was made by you sir.

But I think that there is one flaw to it.

Based on the ancient texts related to the philosopher's stone it should also give youth making the person look at his optimum body situation along with immortality.

But the stone made by you is naturally not to that level.

In the past there was one philosopher’s stone available in ancient Egypt that is said to have come from the sun god Ra.

It is called the star Isis that would produce gold along with the youth and immortality water.

Also this stone can cure illnesses and diseases of the people keeping the place it was present healthy and prosperous.

Similarly there was a philosopher’s stone appearance in India in the hands of a god king lord Krishna.

They called it Shamantakamani

It is red is a red stone that is said to produce gold under the sun light and keep the person wearing it and the place it present devoid of disasters with good prosperity and health.

Also the stone emits a strong light like the sun itself....”

Jonathan explained the knowledge he has on the philosopher’s stone.

Jonathan was frank without any airs.

He did not point out that Nicolas is at fault but he said about various types of philosopher's stones previously present and the difference.

Nicolas nodded his head.

He understands the fault of his own creation.

He was satisfied with Jonathan being frank unlike others that praise him for his creation and nonsense.

Dumbledore was also happy as his thought of negativity towards Jonathan started to break off.

Jonathan smirked inside his mind as he was just playing tricks.

With this solved Nicolas asked Jonathan.

"Mister Jonathan, what would you do if I gave you the philosopher's stone?"

Would you make gold?

Would you like to be immortal like me?"

Jonathan knows how to answer this.

"Sir, with all due respect, I could not take the philosopher's stone.

Even if I took it, I could not keep it with me.

It is no different than having a death sentence to a person like me.

Even though I like the gold that can become a funding means for my future research, Likes the immortality that can let me research as much as I want with extended life.

Well every researcher likes that.

But I prefer to live to see another day with good food and good sleep instead of holding something I should not have held on to my hands.

I want to research and become someone great but for that I have to stay alive first.

It might look selfish but I cherish my life.

So I cannot accept the philosopher's stone, even if you magnanimously gave it to me.

I know my limits very well.”

Chapter 39: became Nicolas

Flamel's disciple

Chapter 39: became Nicolas Flamel's disciple

“...So I cannot accept the philosopher's stone, even if you magnanimously gave it to me.

I know my limits very well.”

Jonathan said clearly showing his desire but also the restrain about this matter.

Previously when Nicolas looked for successors they either told him that,

They are not interested in the philosopher's stone which is a lie or

They are either greedy for the philosopher's stone like blind idiots with their intentions written on their face.

Jonathan did not show either side instead he told them that he valued his life more than other things.

This is the most important point.

Originally something like this would only happen to a protagonist but here it is happening to a villain.

Well Jonathan used his means to gain this chance but still things seem a little more on the easier side.

This was because the current incident did not have any relation to the plot he was currently a part of.

With Jonathan's words Nicolas was satisfied and asked.

"Jonathan black, do you wish to become my disciple?"

He asked and Jonathan widened his eyes for a moment and immediately nodded his head.

As if Nicolas Flamel would take his words back Jonathan immediately spoke.

"Thank you for the offer

I am very grateful if Master Nicolas would take me in as a disciple.

I accept it with all my heart."

Nicolas nodded his head and gave an old book to Jonathan.

It was not thick but actually it was magically shrunk.

It can be said to be the thickest book that Jonathan had ever seen.

"This is all my research and information on my insights.

I did not have long to life as I have already decided to end this long journey of life.

I hope that you would succeed in learning the basics before I leave.

You can stay here till the end of the winter break and also come here in your summer break.

During this time I will teach you.

When you are at school you have any doubts you can write a letter to me...."

He told Jonathan a series of instructions and Jonathan nodded his head directly without saying much.

Dumbledore would return to Hogwarts along with Jonathan for the night. Jonathan would pack few clothes and Dumbledore would send him back here tomorrow morning.

.....

Jonathan spent the remaining of the Christmas and winter vacation in the house of Flamel learning the alchemy.

Even with the fast comprehension that he has the speed at which he learnt is very slow.

The books back at Hogwarts that are available for the students are all low level books.

The most advanced information books are safely stored in restricted section.

But the book in the hands of Jonathan is the most advanced book with vast amount of knowledge.

His learning speed is many times slower compared to when he flipped through the books before.

Jonathan doesn't care what is happening back at Hogwarts as he has his own things to do.

While he was learning alchemy at a fast pace, Harry and Ron are rolling in the library and Harry used the normal invisibility cloak to enter the restricted section.

Unfortunately the normal invisibility cloak did not work as good as the original one.

So it would sometimes fail sometimes did not cover properly, sometimes it would leave his scent for the beasts to notice him...

Along with his already clumsy self things would not go as perfectly as they should have.

But still they made no progress.

Without the Quidditch practice as Harry was not selected things are very boring for Harry.

Also there is this mirror of Erised.

Jonathan really wanted to take a look in that mirror.

He wanted to know his deepest desire.

But he was sure what he would see in the mirror.

Soon the winter vacation is over and Jonathan was sent back to Hogwarts by Nicolas.

Before leaving he specifically told Jonathan to learn more about the basics.

In the past few days Jonathan showed great progress.

Nicolas thought that Jonathan has strong foundation or affinity to alchemy.

So he taught him at the pace that Jonathan could catch.

It was fast and they covered most of the basics.

Nicolas that returned back home made some small changes to his will.

First of all he gave a little extra fortune to Jonathan.

He was marveled by the idea of the goblins of Gringotts managing his wealth for him.

He was shocked that Jonathan was very good at financial matter.

But he understood that if Jonathan wanted to save his fortune then he has to learn few tricks.

So he directly added the extra fortune to Jonathan along with few safe keeping special materials used in alchemy.

They were all sent to the vault of Jonathan directly.

It is the vault number '777'

It is very lucky for Jonathan to gain this vault.

This is not the only wealth he got as during this winter vacation.

Cassiopeia black that should be his great grandmother in some way died without any descendents.

So, all of Cassiopeia black's wealth was also added to Jonathan's wealth.

The transfer procedures along with the house elf Cassiopeia black were all arranged by Kreacher and wily.

They are currently managing things and Jonathan's grandmother has already talked to the remaining members of black family before she died.

So when they died all the wealth would flow to Jonathan by specific will.

The items procurement and proper handling was done by Kreacher and other house elves that are ordered by her.

So Jonathan doesn't have to lift a finger to gain the wealth.

After returning back from the vacation Jonathan first met up with Daphne and pansy.

Well not in the open but secretly.

No one was bothered about this.

Jonathan took them straight to the room of requirements.

Inside of the room appeared to be a beautiful bed and neat arrangements for makeup....

The girls blushed looking at the arrangements here.

Chapter 40: first kiss

Chapter 40: first kiss

Inside of the room appeared to be a beautiful bed and neat arrangements for makeup....

The girls blushed looking at the arrangements here.

Jonathan did not give any time for them to think and kissed Daphne on her lips.

This sudden kiss made her resist a little for a moment but she slowly got in line and reciprocated.

On the side pansy's face turned red immediately.

She was envious that Daphne was able to take Jonathan's first kiss.

But she was not bother by it because she likes Jonathan more.

She knows that she has to share Jonathan to get his love.

So she decided to take a step back and stand after Daphne.

Not physically but mentally she thinks that Daphne is the main wife while she is Jonathan's little lover or second wife or mistress.

She did not like the post but she has to accept it for Jonathan.

After few minutes Daphne was out of breath and Jonathan let her go to take deep breath.

On the other hand Jonathan looked at pansy.

He can easily tell her thoughts just looking at her face and nervousness.

Jonathan spoke to her.

"You are not the second wife or lover or mistress pansy."

Jonathan said and paused for a moment.

Pansy's mind immediately filled in the gap that Jonathan took.

She thought that Jonathan did not like her and wanted to tell her that she is only a friend.

Immediately her eyes turned red and a tear appeared at the edge of her eyes.

Jonathan immediately pulled her into his embrace and held her tightly.

Looking straight into her face he kissed her straight away taking her by surprise.

She is very quickly to reciprocate.

Even though she acts like a spoiled little brat and unreasonable woman some things she is very gentle inside.

Daphne on the side recovered and she has a smile on her face looking at Pansy making out with Jonathan.

She has a complicated look and she is still in the embrace of Jonathan.

After few minutes she stopped kissing Pansy letting her breath and then spoke.

“You both are my women of the same level.

Daphne was close to me since childhood but you won over the gap with your trust and obsessive love.

I have a magic that can let me see how much a person loves me.

You both are at the same level.

You deeply love me to the point of obsession.

I cannot hurt either of you leaving one of you and loving only one of you.

So you have to share me but my love is endless for both of you.

Jonathan said and he hugged them both tightly.

After that they actively kissed Jonathan for a while.

Jonathan did not make any further actions other than kissing them.

Before leaving they kissed on his cheeks close to his lips at the same time and left the room of requirements to their dorm rooms.

This did not end here.

Jonathan smiled sweetly and went to the library.

There is another person that is waiting to get his kiss.

But this is going to be a bumpy raid.

In the library the trio of Harry's group searched for the name Nicolas Flamel.

They did not find it even now.

Or to be precise they did not see the name of Nicolas Flamel in the card they Neville for the chocolate frog.

But that would happen few days before the Quidditch match on February 22nd.

Since it was so long Jonathan has plenty of time to put his fingers at the right place to get what he wants.

Well Harry is not in Quidditch so they might find it a little early.

Also Hermione guilty consciousness person, she is thinking of a way to apologize to Jonathan.

But after going through Jonathan's plan she would not think that he is not a good guy.

With that Jonathan went to the library to study some materials.

The trio of Harry's group is fiddling their own things.

Jonathan did not even bother to look at them or even Hermione.

She noticed him when he arrived and her thoughts are complicated.

After a while Jonathan left the library and Hermione thought that it was a good time to meet with Jonathan and apologize for some things before.

Also she has to thank him for saving her before during the troll incident.

With that in mind she told Harry and Ron that she would be back in a while and left the library hot on heels behind Jonathan.

Ron and Harry are too engrossed in searching for Nicolas that they did not noticed this particular incident.

Well it was not Jonathan's fault.

Jonathan did not go back to Gryffindor instead he went all the way to the room of requirements.

Hermione was naturally a very curious woman.

So she followed Jonathan to see where he is going.

When she saw that a strange door suddenly appeared out of nowhere from the castle wall, has made her shocked.

Jonathan entered into the door and the door did not close as he kept it open for Hermione to enter inside flowing him out of curiosity.

Well since the door is open she wanted to take a peek inside before going back quickly.

So she entered into the room slowly with curiosity like a cat.

With her fluffy hair she really looked like a cat.

But as soon as she entered into the room the door behind her vanished leaving her no way out.

She was both shocked and confused.

But the braveness inside her was still there and she moved forward.

Jonathan did not create a complicate room.

It was a normal room where there is a reading place, a rattan chair giving a strange harmony for a peaceful environment.

Jonathan was sitting on the chair with a book on his hand as reading without caring about anything.

Hermione on the other hand was dazed looking at his handsome appearance along with the surrounding setting.

Chapter 41: I want your first kiss to the price for the information

Chapter 41: I want your first kiss to the price for the information

Jonathan was sitting on the chair with a book on his hand as reading without caring about anything.

Hermione on the other hand was dazed looking at his handsome appearance along with the surrounding setting.

Jonathan specifically created this to boost his charm.

Having more charm would always have good persuasive power.

Similarly, sympathy, pity also has similar effects.

But right now he is not going to act to gain sympathy or pity.

Instead he is going to show her his fangs and gain something good from her for information.

He is going to start a dark business with Hermione.

Well things would start with simple things but as they escalate they would change in form.

It might even lead to dark love.

He is going to teach her that main principal of alchemy.

That is equivalent exchange.

But many people would confuse about one thing that is the equivalence.

What is the equivalence?

Most would say that the equivalence is the value of the thing that one wanted to obtain in proportions.

But that is not true.

For example, if you live by the side of a river the water is free, but if you are in a desert then the value of the water increase exponentially.

Similarly the value of the things would change when the demand of the specific object or information is very high or there is a sense of urgency.

.....

Hermione looked around coming out of her dazed state and found that there is nothing wrong here.

It should be one of the mysteries of Hogwarts.

It is really a peaceful place to study.

She likes to study and this place fits the bill perfectly.

It is more than perfect in her thoughts.

While she is thinking she came forward collecting her strength to speak with Jonathan.

She wanted to apologize for her behavior in the past few days and also thank him for saving her from the troll.

When she came forward from the place she was previously hiding

Jonathan put down his book and looked at Hermione with a smile.

For some reason Hermione has a bad feeling looking into the eyes and smile of Jonathan right now.

But she did not think about it and said.

“Jonathan, I am really sorry for my behavior before and thank you for saving me from the troll that day.

If it was not for you me, Harry and Ron would have died that day....”

She spoke looking straight into the eyes of Jonathan wanted to know how he reacts to her.

Jonathan did not show any change in expression from the start to the end.

Finally when she stopped he spoke.

“It is okay miss granger, I can understand.

I have already predicted that you hate me because of others words don't you.

See it has happened.

Also let me make one more thing clear miss granger.

I am really not a good guy.

But I am not a bad guy either.

I am a simple business man.

If you want anything you can exchange with me for an equivalent price that I evaluate and we can exchange if we both agree on the terms.

This would be the best way for me to be with other people I think.”

Hermione, when she heard that Jonathan called her miss granger instead of Hermione,

She knows that Jonathan is still angry even though he did not show that on his face and there is a clear wedge between them.

Also when he said that he is okay with her apology she felt a little relieved.

But, when she heard his later part of the words that is about his nature and taking everything as business, has made her sad.

She thought that because everyone is avoiding him because of his father has made him like this.

At least that is what she thought.

But no one is actually avoiding him.

Instead it was Harry and that are being avoided even now because of their pervert reputation still going strong.

.....

Originally she should leave here as soon as possible but she suddenly remembered that Jonathan also reads many books.

She wanted to know about Nicolas Flamel.

Since Jonathan wanted to do everything as business then she would contact him through business.

She did not have any thoughts of getting close to Jonathan.

Instead she wanted to help a friend in sadness.

She thought that what she is doing is a noble thing.

So she immediately asked.

“Jonathan, do you know who Nicolas Flamel is?”

She did not use the family name of Jonathan like he is calling her miss granger so that he would feel close to her.

Jonathan looked at her and said.

“Nicolas Flamel, Yes I know him.

I will give you the information for a price...”

Before Jonathan completed his words Hermione spoke.

“I will complete your homework for a week as price.

So can you tell me about Nicolas Flamel?”

Jonathan smiled amusingly and said.

“Miss Granger, you should be joking right.

I have seen your people getting your heads burst open to search all the books to find about Nicolas Flamel.

You are telling me that the cost of this information is as simple as completing my homework for a week.

You are not the one that would decide the price.

I am the one to decide the price.

Based on my analysis and all your anxious search of all the books in the library, the information is very valuable.

So the price of the information will also change.”

Hermione looked at Jonathan and asked him straight.

“What is the price, do you want money and other things.”

Jonathan smiled and replied.

“Miss Granger, I want your first lip to lip kiss as the price for the information.”

Hermione was immediately shocked and blushed glaring at Jonathan.

But Jonathan did not care about her glare and said.

“I know it is a big price for you to decide on immediately.....”

Chapter 42: Hermione returned to

Jonathan

Chapter 42: Hermione returned to Jonathan

But Jonathan did not care about her glare and said.

“I know it is a big price for you to decide on immediately.

So go back and think about it.

May be you would find the information you are looking for.

If not you can always come to look for me.”

Right before this Jonathan received a choice from the villain system.

“Ding

Host, please make your choice.

Choice 1: host has to gain the first kiss of the protagonist’s woman by any means necessary.

Rewards would be decided based on the person that gives their first kiss to the host.

Choice 2: host would not receive the first kiss of the protagonist’s woman.

The women of the host would accidentally give kisses to other people.”

This is the first time Jonathan saw that the system giving penalty or punishment like thing.

He doesn’t like that.

He is possessive in nature and do not like anyone stealing kisses from his women.

For this reason he gave kisses to both pansy and Daphne as soon as he came to the school.

But that did not change from the fact that he did not complete the choice.

.....

Hermione stomped her foot on the floor and cursed Jonathan with an angry face.

Then she wanted to leave but she don’t know how to.

Jonathan simply pointed at a wall and a door appeared out of nowhere.

“I will give you this information for free.

This is called room of requirements and if you want to leave here all you have to do is to think of an exit that you wanted to leave from here.

The door of your imagination appears and you can leave from here.”

Jonathan said and then moved his eyes back to the book, no longer looking at Hermione that has a red face.

No one knows why her face is red.

It might be because of the embarrassment or because of anger.

After that she left here and returned to the common room.

When she came to the common room she found that Harry and Ron are waiting for her.

She did not say the price for the information but only told them that Jonathan knows about Nicolas Flamel.

Harry immediately said.

“Did he tell you about Nicolas Flamel?”

Hermione shook her head.

“I knew that he is a bad guy.

He would not help the good people...”

Ron continued to jump in and started to run off his annoying mouth.

Hermione was silent while Harry looked at her and said.

“Hermione, he would not speak to us or reply to us.

You are the only one he speaks to.

So you have to try your best to get the information from him.

This is to know the secret of the Snape and save everyone in the school.

.....”

If Jonathan was standing in this place he would have laughed his ass off.

The reason for this is simple.

Harry and Ron are 12 year old brats and they are not even in their teen age.

They are trying to save Hogwarts and everyone.

It is quite funny when you think about it.

Do they think that they are the only intelligent people in the entire world?

If Harry did not act brave and go to hiding place of the philosopher's stone Voldemort would never be able to get it.

Fortunately he has his mother's protection and was saved because of that.

So he did not solve this problem but increased it exponentially to the point of threatening his life and the life of his friends.

He even calls himself a hero.

He is not a hero instead he is a moron.

Jonathan would not associate with people like these.

But there is one thing that Jonathan was happy about.

Because these people are morons Jonathan can have some good time with their women easily.

.....

Hermione bit her lower lip with the words of Harry.

She wanted to talk with Jonathan again to see if she will be able to get the information using something different other than her first kiss.

So she left the common room again.

The curfew time has already started and the fat lady left as soon as Hermione got out of the room.

Jonathan was planning on staying at the room of requirements which is more peaceful than the dorms of Gryffindor.

He has to complete studying of the alchemy book that Nicolas gave him.

Hermione that found that the fat lady left when she came out was shocked.

She did not have the way to enter into the common room even if knows the password.

If she was caught outside she would be punished.

She started to curse Harry and Ron for telling her to go now and herself for her impulsive behavior to leave the common room in the night.

She moved slowly step by step like a cat and came to the location of the room or requirements.

She knows how to leave but she doesn't know how to enter the room or requirements.

She started to remember the information on how to enter the room of requirements through the books she read before.

The she moved around the corridor three times to finally let the room of requirements to reveal itself.

Jonathan did not set any restrictions for the entry requirement as he was the first one to enter.

So others can enter freely.

Hermione was able to enter the same room as before.

She looked around carefully.

Jonathan noticed her but did not respond to her presence.

Instead he was engrossed in reading the book in his hand.

This made Hermione curious.

"Jonathan, what is the book you are studying?"

She asked forgetting their conversation before.

Jonathan looked at her and said.

"Well I have newly become the disciple of the person you are looking for before.

He gave me this book to read to learn the basics.

As for other information I cannot tell before the payment is done....."

Chapter 43: Hermione's first kiss

Chapter 43: Hermione's first kiss

"Well I have newly become the disciple of the person you are looking for before.

He gave me this book to read to learn the basics.

As for other information I cannot tell before the payment is done.

Since you came here again means that Harry and Ron should have told you some righteous sounding words and sent you here right.

Well it is their loss that they did not recognize a beauty like you.

Also it is my gain getting the first kiss from a beauty like you."

Jonathan said there words to push Hermione further into thinking that she is beautiful and her first kiss are very valuable.

Even though Hermione is intelligent, when it comes to receiving compliments all the women have same thoughts.

They would easily get into good mood with compliments.

It is also true for her as it reduced her anger towards Ron many times after he praised her intelligence and beauty in the original plot.

Jonathan is thinking of the same thing and playing cards according to the information he knows.

Hermione's face became red after she was praised being a beauty.

She felt that Jonathan is really interested in her and don't know how to show his heart to her.

So he is playing these tricks to gain her attention.

She has seen Daphne and pansy with Jonathan before.

But these thoughts did not appear on her mind right now because it was clouded by the praises from Jonathan about her beauty.

Also she was angry towards Ron and Harry for asking her to do whatever it takes to get the information.

All these things combined and she made the decision on impulse.

“Okay, I will give you my first kiss.”

She said the words with blushing red face but did not move forward.

Jonathan has to take the initiative to get her first kiss.

Well Jonathan intended to do just that.

Pushing her more would not give any positive impact on her.

But still he has to let her take another half a step forward mentally to balance out the things for smooth sailing in the future.

“Come over here then.”

Jonathan said as Hermione bit her lower lip and could not see straight into the eyes of Jonathan.

She simply thought.

“Let’s get this over with quickly and get the information.”

She thought and moved forward to the rocking chair.

Jonathan did not stand up and pulled her onto his lap.

The book in his hand was placed on the table on the side.

As soon as she sat on the table she looked astounded towards Jonathan wanting to say something.

She opened her mouth.

Jonathan to the right moment to lock her lips and her previous quick kiss plans has gone down the drain.

Jonathan’s hands are holding her head so she would not break free immediately.

But Jonathan did not apply any pressure on her head.

It was her thought of comfort that she is not taking the initiative to kiss and only getting kissed.

But her tongue and lips moved automatically and she learnt on how to kiss along with the movements of Jonathan automatically.

It is like fish learning to swim.

Well they already know about that but they still have to take the initiative.

So now she took the initiative and she started to enjoy the kiss.

They kissed till Hermione is out of breath.

Jonathan was fine because his body was improved and can hold breath for a long time.

“Haaan....haaam...”

“Haaan....haaam...”

“Haaan....haaam...”

She leaned forward and rested on the chest of Jonathan while panting.

Her mind is dazed and she was aroused too.

Well she has entered teenage and girls mature faster both physically and mentally.

Their understanding is also much deeper than most men when it comes to specific things.

She panted for a while before returning to her right mind.

She immediately stood up from the lap of Jonathan.

But she tripped and lost her balance because of her sudden actions.

“Ahaamm...”

Jonathan caught her hand at the right time and pulled her back into his lap.

“Don’t worry beauty,

My lap is quite soft for you to sit.

Stay here before you got your body right.

Also you wanted to know the information right.

Sit peacefully and I will tell you the information.

After that you can leave.

Well if you like it you can stay with me too.

As for the other things like kissing again, it is your choice...”

Jonathan said and Hermione blushed again.

She was really about to fall.

If she fell as it is, then her nose would really get a major hit.

Even though she did not care about her beauty, she really doesn’t want to damage her face.

Jonathan saved her so as reward she decided to sit on his lap for a little while.

Any way she has to listen to the information and also get her body together after the mesmerizing...kiss...”

When she thought about this her mind went a little blank again.

But she snapped out of it.

She blushed with red face and the redness reached all the way to her ears.

“Hum...in...information...”

She said with fluttering words.

Jonathan smiled inside but did not show that out and said to Hermione.

“The information has received the price I wanted so I will tell you.

Nicolas Flamel is an alchemist.

He is famous for creating the philosopher’s stone.

This is most probably the thing Harry and Ron are rocking their heads about.

As for my case, I got him as a teacher because he liked my talent.

He gave me a book related to his research fundamentals to study and understand.

That is all.”

Jonathan said everything into the ear of Hermione while blowing the wind into her ear making her more and more aroused.

Her face is all red because of the air that Jonathan blew into her ear.

She felt tingly all over.

She liked the feeling she is getting.

Chapter 44: disappointed

Hermione

Chapter 44: disappointed Hermione

She felt tingly all over.

She liked the feeling she is getting.

But she snapped back again from the feeling when Jonathan stopped talking.

She was so much embarrassed that she directly ran away from him going out of the room of requirements and went straight to the Gryffindor common room.

Fortunately the fat lady returned at that time.

She is having a beauty sleep right now.

Hermione disturbed her and took few minutes to remember the password to enter into the common room.

The fat lady was annoyed but Hermione is not in a state to think about that.

Her face is hot and she was embarrassed.

Well what can anyone say, she is a girl that hit the puberty and it is the time for first love to come.

She thought that Harry and Ron would be out waiting for her.

Unexpectedly there is no one in the common room instead they went to sleep.

She was severely disappointed with Harry and Ron but since they are friends she let that go.

She went to sleep.

But she was unable to sleep as when she closed her eyes, the scene of her sitting on the lap of Jonathan and kissing him appeared in her mind more and more.

She was having a hard time thinking of all that.

She did not sleep all night because of the wild fantasies in her mind.

Her eyes were red early in the morning next day.

The Quidditch time has started.

It is February 20th and in 2 days there is a Quidditch match between Gryffindor and Hufflepuff.

That is why the people in the Gryffindor room are a little hyped.

Even though they lost to Slytherin they are sure that they can win against Hufflepuff.

Hermione went to speak with Harry and Ron.

But they are not in the mood to learn about that.

They are more interested in knowing about the situation of Quidditch.

Hermione with her red swollen eyes from lack of sleep stomped her feet and left with anger.

For this match Snape is not the referee.

Well Harry is not participating.

So there is no need for him to do anything out of order in this situation.

Things went on normally without much hitch.

After 2 days the match was over and Harry and Ron got back to Hermione to know about Nicolas Flamel.

During the match Ron and Neville got into a fight with Draco and Neville got some good beating enough to land him in the hospital wing.

Fortunately with a narrow margin the Gryffindor won against Hufflepuff.

Hermione bit her lower lip thinking that she has sacrificed her first kiss to Jonathan for this information,

But she did not receive any appreciation from neither Harry nor Ron.

She did not tell them about the price but only told them about the information of Nicolas.

Immediately Neville on the side covered in bandages showed the cards in his hand that he got from chocolate frog packs.

Hermione was dazed to find that Nicolas Flamel can be found so easily.

She felt that she was cheated off her first kiss by Jonathan.

But she calmed down as she cannot show this in front of Harry and Ron.

Right then Jonathan appeared with a smile and grinned towards Hermione.

She glared at him for a moment but her cheeks turned red when Jonathan licked his lips.

.....

Knowing this Harry along with Ron and Hermione moved out of this place and wanted to meet with Hagrid to speak.

But they discovered that Snape is going towards the forbidden forest.

So they followed him sneakily.

They got the invisibility cloak with them as Harry brought this to make things more on the safe side.

Snape meets Quirrell and they speak of the Philosopher's Stone.

Harry thinks that Snape is trying to force Quirrell to help him get the stone so he can get rich, to the alarm of both Ron and Hermione who fear Quirrell will talk.

With that the trio got the information they quickly left there to meet with Hagrid.

Jonathan on the other hand is also following them in invisibility cloak because there is something important he wanted to do with the information.

Or to be more precise he can get more kisses from Hermione while planning some future traps for Harry and Ron.

They went into the hut of Hagrid while Jonathan stood by the side at the window with invisibility cloak.

They could not listen to the conversation happening inside the hut of Hagrid.

Well Jonathan did not care as he knows.

Hagrid, who confirms the Stone, is being kept at Hogwarts.

Hermione charms him into talking about the enchantments used to guard it:

Fluffy, the three-headed dog, is Hagrid's,

Along with that there are enchantments from Professors Sprout, Flitwick, McGonagall, Quirrell, and Snape.

After gaining the information, Harry complains about the high temperature in Hagrid's hut.

They then discovered that he has a Norwegian Ridgeback dragon egg, which he wants to name Norbert once it has hatched.

The group left back to the castle and continued with their studies.

Jonathan managed to score extra points in every class including the class of Snape.

This landed him with enough points to let Gryffindor win even if they did not win the win the Quidditch match till the end.

With his popularity boost that he got from the system, along with various other things, Jonathan became very popular in Hogwarts.

He also made enough points on equal level of the entire Gryffindor house combined made.

This things shocked many people which added to his popularity.

Jonathan on the other hand did not get his eyes on the top of his head and appeared very natural.

Professor Flitwick did not approach Jonathan just yet.

The spells of the first year can be learnt easily.

He has to observe Jonathan more to make a move.

Professor McGonagall also recognized his talent in transfiguration so she was also paying attention to Jonathan during this time.

Chapter 45: 30 kisses as compensation

Chapter 45: 30 kisses as compensation

He has to observe Jonathan more to make a move.

Professor McGonagall also recognized his talent in transfiguration so she was also paying attention to Jonathan during this time.

But the first years would only be recognized and tested.

As they move on to the third year their true talent would come out.

That is also the time when they choose the subjects that they wanted to take as electives.

They will wait for that time before making the final choice.

.....

Jonathan also noticed their gaze but he did not open up and waited for them to come to him.

This way the amount of impact would increase and he would have enough space for maneuver.

.....

It is April and Jonathan kept an eye on the movements of trio.

Hermione did not try to look into the eyes of Jonathan as she always remembers her first kiss with him when she looks at him.

During this time Jonathan has kissing time with Daphne and Pansy everyday during his free time.

Their bond got closure and closure.

They did not take any more steps other than kissing but that is enough to intoxicate them.

.....

One day Jonathan found that Hagrid is looking for books on how to feed and raise a dragon.

Jonathan found that in the library and talked to him about that.

Hagrid tried his best to control himself not to speak about his secret.

But he still spills the things because he held the book too tightly attracting the attention of madam Pince.

This was noticed by Hermione and she came along with Harry to ease up the things.

They know what Hagrid is looking for.

Jonathan only whispered to Hermione and left without even looking at Harry.

Harry did not understand why Jonathan did not answer him or anything.

But he doesn't care and thought that Jonathan is arrogant.

Hermione later came to the room of requirements with a blushed face as Jonathan called her here.

She knows that Jonathan is going to get another kiss from her in the name of keeping secrets.

She is angry but she is anticipating about the kiss too.

Jonathan was still there in the same position reading a book.

"What do you want?"

She asked a little arrogantly.

"Miss Granger, you should understand your situation.

Also you have to sit on my lap to speak to me.

Remember I am in the power right now.

So you have to listen to my requirements to keep your secrets.

Also I have recorded our first kiss before to keep it as a good memory you know.”

Jonathan told her as he showed a crystal orb that showed the picture of them kissing.

In it Hermione is actually more active.

Hermione looked at the image and blushed.

She quickly came close to Jonathan in order to snatch the crystal ball.

Jonathan actually let her.

She directly wanted through that on the ground but stopped because of two reasons.

First is she really doing want to drop the crystal ball erasing her first kiss memory.

Second is that she doubted on how easy she was able to snatch the crystal ball is and felt that Jonathan might have other copies.

When she thought about this stopping her dropping gesture Jonathan spoke.

“Bingo.

You thought it right.

I have many copies of that stored specifically.

So losing one would not be much of a problem for me.

You are really smart you know that.

That is why I wanted to speak to you instead of those morons.

Now be a good girl and sit on my lap.

Also hand over the crystal ball carefully or you can keep it if you like.”

Jonathan said looking at Hermione.

When he said that she is intelligent, a small grin crept on her pink lips but she immediately hid it well.

She made an expression as if she did not have any choice and sat on the lap of Jonathan and Jonathan pulled her into his embrace as his hands were free already.

Hermione stiffened for a moment when Jonathan embraced her suddenly.

“Now miss granger, we come to the main point.

I know that Hagrid got a dragon egg, the thing in the forbidden area that you shouldn't bother about but trying to figure out any way.

But these things are secrets that can land you and you two moronic self centered righteous friends Harry and Ron with a good amount of punishment.

Also it would give me some extra house points improving my fame.

I presume that you don't want this to happen.

So you have to compensate for my losses.

Let us assume that I would get around 20 house points for this and a lot of fame from the students.

What do you think of the price of 30 lip kisses not pecking kisses?

You don't have to give them all to me on the same day.

We can divide the number to 30 days.

If there is something I will notify you beforehand.

What do you think of this deal?”

Jonathan asked while holding Hermione tightly in his arms making her dizzy from all the close contact.

Also the concept Jonathan spoke is enough to make her blush till she was as red as Ron when he was embarrassed.

But she did not have a choice;

Well that is what she thought at that moment to convince her mind that want to kiss Jonathan.

She is smart but that smartness is only related to studies but not the reality.

She did not have to worry about anything as there is Dumbledore behind Hagrid to clean up his mess in this particular situation.

If they did not meddle in and Dumbledore really found out about this matter, then he would have really become cautious about the philosopher's stone.

But things did not go that way and this led to the current situation and a future where Harry faced with professor Quirrell.....

Chapter 46: the secret of ancestry choice

Chapter 46: the secret of ancestry choice

If they did not meddle in and Dumbledore really found out about this matter, then he would have really become cautious about the philosopher's stone.

But things did not go that way and this led to the current situation and a future where Harry faced with professor Quirrell,

Or you can see the remnant soul of Voldemort.

Things would have solved more easily.

Not only they meddle in the matter that they should not have but they even cause many people to have head ache.

That is what Harry potter did.

After that she accepted to Jonathan's deal glaring at him.

But her eyes have different feeling to them instead of being angry.

She was anxious and expectant about Jonathan.

Well she trusts Jonathan that he would not cheat his words when it comes to trade.

With that they kissed again and did not part for 5 whole minutes.

The kiss this time is more passionate with their tongues intertwined and her tongue was played by Jonathan causing her to be on the passive side.

With the kiss done Hermione was reluctant and wanted to continue.

But she came back to her senses and blushed for her thought of wanting to kiss Jonathan.

After that she quickly left this place.

Jonathan told her that he wanted to speak to Harry later and wanted to meet him in the school grounds tomorrow morning.

Also he told her not to tell this to that snot nosed brat Ron that has loud mouth and tendency to speak about this to everyone.

Hermione glared at Jonathan again, it is not because Jonathan scolded Ron but because Jonathan called in Harry.

She thought that Jonathan is going to make a deal with Harry too.

She doesn't know what the deal is but her thoughts are running wild.

Jonathan that looked her then as she looked at him with weird expression making him understood that she misunderstood.

"Don't worry, I am not into men.

I like beautiful women."

Hermione, that got her thoughts red by Jonathan blushed again and ran away like a frightened rabbit.

.....

Jonathan did not care about these matters as he was busy with his own things.

During this time he met with the phoenix few times as it came to him on its own.

Jonathan did not understand what it came to him and be intimate with him.

During his study about the artifacts and materials on his hand, he took out a box that was sealed with a puzzle like thing from his mother.

It was also in the collection but he never took it out as he was busy with other things.

He thought that there are some air tight precious materials stored in it.

He wanted to check what is inside really quickly.

Any way he has to know what is inside so that he can use it when necessary.

He took out the box that was previously placed inside the expansion bag by the house elves.

But when he touched the box with his hand to take it out of the expansion bag, his eyes lost their focus and the light in them.

His hands moved automatically taking the box out of the expansion bag and started to solve the puzzle as if he was possessed.

His fingers moved at a fast speed and few of the puzzle pieces has sharp thorns that got his blood stuck to the box that seems to be made out of wood.

The blood that came out was sucked by the box and it started to glow with green light.

Also the thorns on the box vanished along with the wounds on his finger.

Jonathan did not have any consciousness of his actions.

He was looking at the thing his body is doing on its own because he has a system and he exists independently from all kinds of soul tampering things.

He was very anxious thinking that his body was being taken over by some old monster or something.

But when the puzzle was solved and the green light appeared he got his senses back to him.

The wooden box opened showing an old piece of scroll made of leather but not parchment.

There is also a pendent made of pure crystal which is oddly similar to the deadly hallows symbol that Xenophilus Lovegood had with him in the original series.

But the cloak, the wand and the stone symbols are oddly strange and more complete giving an ancient feeling.

When Jonathan touched the pendent he felt a strange way of energy and information entering his mind.

Immediately the villain system gave out a choice.

“Ding

Host has stumbled upon an ancestry secret.

Emergency choice initiated.

Time stop is being applied.

Host, please make your choice.

Emergency choice....

Choice 1: accept the information from the symbol and your secret ancestry.

Host would be able to gain the benefits of the ancestry and its inheritance,

Host has to bear the consequences of this ancestry to.

Choice 2: system would destroy the information along with the ancestry details.

Host will lose his ancestry.

Host doesn't have to bear the consequences of this ancestry."

Jonathan felt that the time around him stopped and read thought.

He did not expect something magical to happen to him right now about his ancestry.

It said that he has to bear the consequences.

Naturally if it was the protagonist then it would have been solved easily.

But things are different when it comes to him being a villain.

He was a little reluctant to lose something good.

He wanted to read the leather scroll on the side.

But the system would not let him.

Unless he makes his choice he would not be able to move or do anything.

He sighed and decided to take on the risk.

Any way he has his way of protection.

With that he chose the first option.

Immediately the time started to move and the information entered into his mind slowly from the pendent.

Chapter 47: tricking Harry into unbreakable vow

Chapter 47: tricking Harry into unbreakable vow

With that he chose the first option.

Immediately the time started to move and the information entered into his mind slowly from the pendent.

All that appeared in his mind is a way of ritual with the pendent.

As for the leather scroll on the side is actually the high grade magic circle that is required for the ritual.

It is not possible to draw it on the ground as the amount of materials required is astronomical.

Instead the mode of magic circle is changed to a scroll made of high class materials.

Jonathan opened the scroll and checked it out.

A messy magic circle is drawn inside with numerous runes.

Just looking at those runes has made Jonathan dizzy for some time.

Jonathan immediately closed the scroll and new information appeared in his mind.

For the ritual start, he requires few things.

One is the tears of phoenix and the other is the venom of basilisk.

These are the main ingredients while the supporting ingredients required from various magical beasts.

Jonathan has most of them except for the phoenix tears and the venom of basilisk.

He can get phoenix tears when the phoenix fox comes to him again.

As for the basilisk venom, it is not a problem as he can get them either by waiting for a year or by buying things through black market.

With that he was in a happy mood.

He placed the pendent back in along with the scroll, closed the box and put it back inside the expansion bag.

With that stored Jonathan sighed and decided to do some research about this symbol and other things.

He knows that basic plot but he don't know the real things that are happening in this world.

Jonathan has to always remind his mind again and again, that he was in the real world and not a movie or game.

If it was the movie then the concentration will be on the protagonist.

But this is real world and the concentration on many things other than the protagonist.

Everything and everyone has background stories and hidden stories.

These things are the most dangerous that can directly change the plot direction.

Voldemort that would fight against old people, weak people and children could not even be considered as a proper villain.

The other people fear him because he kills without blinking an eye.

But is killing other really an act of villainy?

There are many people and even countries in the world that would kill innocent people in the name of justice and get benefits from them shamelessly.

When the other retaliates they would even accuse the victims as terrorists.

Compared to them Voldemort is not even a kid being a villain.

The title dark lord is more like a show than a real title.

Jonathan thought and left here to go back to the dormitory.

On the next day he was able to meet with Harry privately.

The location was set by Hermione.

Harry was very curious and wanted to know why Jonathan wanted to speak to him.

Jonathan usually ignores him and Ron completely without even saying a word.

Now he wanted to speak to Harry, this made him anxious, curious and cautious.

They met at a distance away from the hut of Hagrid near the castle wall.

There is another person that is watching the situation from afar.

He heard the conversation between Hermione and Harry before.

He was very disappointed that his friends did not tell him about the important thing.

So he tried to eavesdrop on what Harry and Jonathan are talking.

Unfortunately he was unable to hear anything because of the different direction of the head wind.

Jonathan chose this location specifically for this matter.

On the other hand Jonathan looked at straight at Harry for a good while and spoke first.

“Hello Harry,

Actually I did not want to speak with you about anything as it would only cause too much problem for me and nonsense.

So I will get straight to the point.

As I have previously told to Hermione, I am neither a good guy nor a bad guy.

Instead I am a business man.

I know the information about the dragon egg that Hagrid is hiding and wanting to hatch.

If you don't want me to tell this information to anyone or to be exact report to this matter to anyone, I want some compensation.

Hermione has already paid her part of the contribution to my compensation.

We have come to a deal.

Now it was your turn.

I presume you don't want to see Hagrid feel sad and the price that Hermione paid go to waste right.

If not, I want you to form a deal with me.

The deal is simple.

In the future, I will ask you to give the credit of a certain thing to me completely.

You have to give me the credit to that thing completely and tell to anyone that it was done by me or saved by me in both in my presence and outside my presence.

If you accept for this deal we can make an unbreakable vow in the name of magic.

You see I do not believe anyone, it is especially so after learning things through hard lessons.

My time is precious, so make your choice quickly."

Jonathan said with a smile from start to the end without carrying about the change in the expression of Harry.

Harry thought for a few moments as his naive brain could not come up with the answers to the schemes of Jonathan.

So he finally accepted to the offer of Jonathan to make an unbreakable vow.

As for how Jonathan knows how to perform unbreakable vow is not a big story.

He learnt it from his grandmother saying that he would not trust other people and for his safety he has to learn this skill.

With his pestering and reasoning she taught him the basics.

With his comprehension and understanding in the later years.....

Chapter 48: you would shout that you love victor Krum if anyone asks you this question

Chapter 48: you would shout that you love victor Krum if anyone asks you this question

With his pestering and reasoning she taught him the basics.

With his comprehension and understanding in the later years he completely understood the spell and the procedure.

So he quickly formed the unbreakable vow with Harry with the said conditions.

Also Jonathan added a condition that Harry could not saw the truth about what they spoke or the contents of the vow to anyone.

But he can still like to others about the contents.

With the vow complete Harry left from that place back to the castle.

He felt that Jonathan is quite strange at the same time the previous sympathy is gone.

It is a mixture of emotions.

With Harry left, the person that is hiding and watching the entire situation hid more deeply while not showing his face to Harry.

After Harry left Ron came out and he came straight towards Jonathan.

“Hey you, stop.

What did you talk to Harry and Hermione?

What is happening here I want to know?

If you don't tell me, then I will report this to professor McGonagall that you are plotting and threatening Harry and Hermione.”

“Hahahaha...”

Jonathan looked at Ron and laughed out loud looking at Ron like an idiot.

If he really reported it then it was Harry and Hermione along with Hagrid that would be implicated.

Jonathan can still escape without receiving any damage.

But Jonathan has other plans for Ron so Jonathan directly spoke.

“Well since you insist.

I know that Hagrid got a dragon egg illegally,

So I wanted to report it.

Both Harry and Hermione are trying their best to stop me from reporting.

So in order to stop me they made deals with me.

Since you want to report, I would not stop you as it is not in my deal.

But since you came to me anyway, I want you to make a deal with me.

If not I would report about the dragon egg in Hagrid's hands.

Because of you Hagrid would be implicated.

The efforts of your friends Hermione and Harry would go down the drain.

Now think about it.

Do you want to make a deal with me?"

Jonathan asked with a smile that was very gentle and beautiful making him more handsome.

But for Ron it appeared like the smile of a devil.

He never thought that his curiosity would land him in such a situation.

He did not have a choice in this matter.

His face turned red from the embarrassment and anger.

He smacked his own face and then said.

"What do you want from me?"

Jonathan smiled again and said.

"I want you to make an unbreakable vow with the conditions that I am going to tell you.

First condition is you would shout that you love victor Krum if anyone asks you about that.

Second is that you would unconditionally support the wishes of the woman in your family and you love.

Third is that you would tell all the bad points and secrets of your brothers to the woman that they are seeing.

These are the three conditions that I want you to make an unbreakable vow to me."

Jonathan said with a smile.

Ron though that there is nothing wrong with these conditions.

But he was unable to perceive the loop holes in these conditions.

He is really stupid.

Jonathan did not tell them either.

With that Ron made the unbreakable vow with Jonathan and the conditions for Jonathan are still the same like he had with Harry.

He would not report about the dragon egg that Hagrid is having.

With that Ron left as well and Jonathan went to the lake to practice his painting skill again.

He has a fixed routine every day to complete certain number of things to keep him body perfectly fit.

.....

During this time the dragon egg was hatched and Hagrid named the dragon as Norbert.

Well Jonathan doesn't care about these things but they were found out by Draco Malfoy.

They saw that Jonathan did not make a move during the entire time.

Everyday Hermione would come to the room of requirements and kisses Jonathan on his lips.

The more they kissed the more Hermione liked it.

Jonathan tried new things every day.

Other than Hermione he would kiss Daphne and Pansy every day.

After few days the lips of the three girls are a little swollen and gave them a unique charm.

Harry and Ron were attracted to Hermione's swollen lips, when they asked her she simply told them that she ate some spicy hot food.

Well they believed it as there are other things to worry about.

On the other hand Pansy and Daphne were questioned by other girls and Draco.

They gave the same excuse but most of the girls did not believe that.

As for Draco he is an idiot on the same level as Ron.

So he too believed their words.

Ron on the other hand was bitten by dragon and he started to rest from that day in the hospital wing.

The hiding and sending of the dragon to Ron's brother Charlie's friends was carried out by Hermione and Harry alone.

The invisibility cloak that Harry has is not the perfect one.

So they can be caught at any time.

But the luck of the protagonist activated saving them from trouble of getting caught along with the dragon.

They got themselves detention from professor McGonagall along with Draco that reported them.

This time Neville was not a part of what they did and he was not punished because Jonathan helped him from doing stupid things.

During this time Jonathan helped Neville many times when he forgets the password to enter the Gryffindor common room.

Because of Jonathan he doesn't have to sleep outside on the floor.

This has happened many times and Neville was grateful for Jonathan.

So he respects the words of Jonathan to some extent and did not do things that would cause trouble for him or Jonathan.

Chapter 49: Hermione was discovered by Pansy and Daphne

Chapter 49: Hermione was discovered by Pansy and Daphne

This has happened many times and Neville was grateful for Jonathan.

So he respects the words of Jonathan to some extent and did not do things that would cause trouble for him or Jonathan.

Also Jonathan taught Neville some of the things he knows making him more intelligent at least in the studies.

Right now Neville is actually doing much better than both Ron and Harry in studies.

Today is May 9th and the dragon should be taken by Charlie's friends.

Neville did not get any detention but both Hermione and Harry along with Draco go to the detention.

Well Jonathan told Hermione that Draco might be planning something on her when they are done kissing and hugging.

But she is stubborn and did not listen to Jonathan's words.

Now she regrets it.

She doesn't want any bad marks on her academic record.

She wanted to be a good girl but she is not the listening type.

Now she got two bad marks because of the troll incident and now this curfew breaking incident.

She can only sigh about this matter.

On the next day when she came to the room of requirements she came face to face with Daphne and Pansy that are just leaving with swollen lips and flushed faces.

Hermione who have experienced this already knows that they kissed Jonathan inside the room of requirements.

Also they seem to be together and did not have any conflict of interest or problem of sharing Jonathan between them.

When they looked at Hermione that is actually going towards the room of requirements, they were startled.

They thought that Hermione came to investigate.

So they first left to a distance and observed from the turn of the corridor to see where Hermione is going.

When Hermione entered into the room of requirements they followed behind her and entered the room of requirements too.

The scene inside has shocked them.

Hermione willingly sat on the lap of Jonathan with pouting face and asked.

“Did you just kiss Daphne and Pansy?”

Jonathan was not surprised as he planned the current situation.

Jonathan spoke with a smile.

“Yep, they are my women that are deeply in love with me.

Of course they came here to get their good night kisses.

They are here every day right before you and left before you.

Don't you notice them?”

Jonathan asked with a knowing smile.

Hermione looked into the eyes of Jonathan straight for a moment and asked.

"Then what about me?"

Jonathan smiled again and said.

"Miss Granger, did you ever say that you love me.

We are doing a business deal and we both accepted to the price.

Don't tell me that you developed feelings for me.

If you did you have to tell them to me directly just like Daphne and pansy did.

Also if you really love me then you should be willing to share me with other women.

But of course, you have to make me fall in love with you first.

Now be a good girl and think about what you wanted to do.

As for the current situation you should kiss me right.

Also don't you always say that you hate kissing me?

How come you suddenly changed?

Jonathan asked and then kissed Hermione turning her mind blank.

Both Daphne and pansy that looked at the incident don't know how to react.

But there is one thing for certain that they accept Jonathan and his words clearly stated that he loves them.

So they are happy with that.

Hermione after kissing Jonathan regained her senses.

She pouted her lips and stomped her feet on the ground.

Then she left here angrily without saying anything to Jonathan.

She muttered few bad words at Jonathan and left quickly returning to her dorm.

She started to roll on her bed not knowing what her feelings towards Jonathan are.

In the final analysis she decided that Jonathan is a bad guy and she hates him.

Well her feelings are complicated right now.

Also she doesn't want to lose her friends Harry and Ron for Jonathan.

The feelings towards Jonathan are not as deep as the friendship feelings that she has towards Harry and Ron.

With that the things are solved in her heart.

Well it is not a bad thing for Jonathan as he could not contain too many loves at the same time.

He was preparing many rituals to strengthen his body so that he would be handling many women at the same time in the future.

.....

Back in the room of requirements after Hermione left Jonathan smiled happily and then looked at the side where Pansy and Daphne are hiding.

"Are you happy with what you just saw?"

Do you want more kisses from me?

Since you are already here, then don't leave.

Come over here.

We are going to take a double take right now."

Jonathan said startling both Pansy and Daphne.

They came out with blushed faces and walked step by step walking towards Jonathan.

Jonathan made them both sit on his lap from either side and pulled their faces close to him giving a three way kiss.

Later he parted and then kissed them separately while tightly hugging them.

They did not push him away and kissed him reciprocating well without any problems.

After some time Daphne asked.

“Are you going to pull Hermione into your women too?”

Jonathan smiled at her and said.

“Well it depends on how she would react.

She is too proud to become my woman easily.

She has to slowly taken down over time.

Don't worry there will be many sisters for you to spend your time together.

You cannot hog in all the good things for yourself.

You have to share with your friends and close people.

Having a group that trusts you with their life and you can trust them with your live is very valuable.

This cannot be cultivated using friendship unless they are naive idiots.

It can only be obtained through love....”

Chapter 50: interfere with the leave them be, make your choice

Chapter 50: interfere with the protagonist and the villain or leave them be, make your choice

This cannot be cultivated using friendship unless they are naive idiots.
It can only be obtained through love like you and pansy to me and I am to you.

Did you understand?"

Both pansy and Daphne nodded their heads.

But they also understood that Jonathan would go around smelling flowers in the future.

Well as long as he loved them, they are happy.

It is common for nobles to marry and have many wives.

So they don't mind and think that it was the symbol of masculinity of Jonathan that they love.

After that they also left and Jonathan also left back to his dorm room to sleep.

In the next few days Hermione was in spoiled mood when she came to look for Jonathan.

But her kisses are all with passion as she likes the way Jonathan kisses.

Right after kissing she has complicated expression and leaves.

This happened for a few days when the 30 days that they talked about are over.

For some reason Hermione came on the thirty first day too.

Also today is her detention that is on May 26th.

Jonathan did not remain her before kissing and after kissing Jonathan spoke.

"Miss Granger,

It seems like you came here for an extra day.

You seem to have forgotten that our agreed price is for 30 days only."

Hermione was shocked as she calculated and became embarrassed.

It seems like she used to come to Jonathan every day to kiss him that it became a habit of her.

She has complicated eyes and wanted to leave without saying anything.

But Jonathan then spoke.

“Since you came here for an extra day, I will tell you something important.

While you go for detention today, it should be Hagrid.

Make sure that you stay with Hagrid which is the safest.

As for Harry leave him to Malfoy, they will be fine.

You must remember to stay with Hagrid for your safety.

Also don't be impulsive to do anything.

You will complicate things if you did something.

As long as you did not do anything things would be fine.”

Hermione heard this and glared at Jonathan.

She thought that Jonathan is telling her that the things she did would make them complicated.

Jonathan did not explain it to her.

Any way she will be fine and he don't have to worry about her.

Voldemort is in a weak state and he would not risk killing anyone.

If he killed anyone then he would be facing a full pursuit immediately.

So he could not risk the exposure.

Jonathan did not go there to check the situation.

He has a very busy schedule and has to study as much as he possible can and quickly.

This way he could ask Nicolas if he has any doubts in alchemy.

Also there will be the year end exams soon.

Even though he is already prepared he still needs some studying to do to gain the perfect score.

With that he concentrated on studying hard.

He is already using the time turner for all the things as the time he has every day is not enough for him.

In the forbidden forest just like Jonathan said things happened quite strangely.

Hagrid directly decided that he would take Hermione with him while Harry, Draco and Fang would search the place in two teams.

When they encountered the dead unicorn and Voldemort, Hermione froze from the sudden shock.

She doesn't know what to say at that time.

She was very doubtful of Jonathan on how he knows about the future incident.

But she remembered that Jonathan is good at divination.

So she calmed down and did not make a move.

Finally they are all saved by the centaurs.

This experience she would remember for life.

Her kiss is really worth it, she thought as she traded her kiss for this information and safety.

She knows what would happen if she really made a move on Voldemort or the dark figure that kill the unicorn.

For a few days everything was same as always without much of a change.

Jonathan did not bother with thinking other people's affairs.

He gave a copy of his notes to Pansy and Daphne to study and learn.

He also taught Neville with patience.

Neville is the prime example of a loyal person, just like his parents.

It is best to keep him with him.

As for Harry and Ron they are complete waste.

Hermione is having hard time teaching them about the important information of the exam.

She has her own notes so Jonathan did not help her.

They had their exams in June and on the last day of their exams Harry got a strike of an idea and immediately he told Hermione and Ron about this.

They went to Hagrid to know who gave him the dragon egg.

Coincidentally they found that Dumbledore is not here and went to the ministry of magic to speak about something.

With that they became more alert and they wanted to go inside to defeat the dark wizard and save the school and stop Voldemort is from returning.

Jonathan that knows all this was laughing at the bunch of idiots that was the main cause of all the situations.

Since it is like that Jonathan has another plan.

Right then he got a choice.

“Ding

Choice 1: spoil the plans of the protagonist and the villain in any way possible.

Host would be rewarded with moderate level dark arts.

Choice 2: let them do as they please.

The popularity that host obtained would be over shadowed by the greatness of the protagonist’s group.

.....”

Jonathan did not mind choosing either of the options.

This is because he prepared two plans in this matter.

The more famous Harry becomes the more the fall would be when he was done with that.

On the other hand Jonathan wanted both of them.

So he has decided to implement both of them at the same time.
