

Chapter 1

Hi, welcome to my life . She I have the most simple, as have all. Not many friends , because they are too closed in themselves . Perhaps, like everyone, it is difficult for me to lose loved ones , it is difficult for me to join a new team ,it is difficult to study, I take everything too close to my heart.

- Hey, are you new ?..*asked

Herman extended his hand to me *.

-Yeah.*I said shyly and quietly *

- Hey, its afraid, come with me, I'll show you our school, you like it here !..* Hera grabbed my arm and led me down the school hallway*

The school was old , the walls poszarpane , plaster dropped off the ceiling and all the floors were in a light layer of white powder like the first snow in November that covered the frozen grass . From the dining room smelled of stewed cabbage , from the excitement it was very cold. There seemed to be nothing in it that could get my attention, but ... the hot hand that was clasping my wrist seemed to be plunging me into another world. Hera is incredibly handsome and tall. He smelled the strawberry liquid for vaping , and the hair shimmered in the sunlight through selamanya hands window .

-A you so and not told me , as you name is). * muttered Hera and shook his bangs *

-Sasha

-Very pleasant. * Hera smiled and his snow-white teeth flashed, blinding everyone around*

Hera's got a crush on my head . Homeroom and familiarity with your class flew by . My class is too aggressive and everyone's already in pairs . Hera wasn't my classmate. He seemed to have disappeared, that day I did not see him anymore there was a feeling that he did not exist, that he was just invented by me , such as he I had not met before.

When I came home, I immediately called my friend and we agreed to meet to celebrate the first day of school . I told her about Herman . She laughed and said I wasn't going to see anything with him. It was a shame, but I didn't hold it against her . After all closer than she I have no one being asked . There were two days off and plenty of time to think about his continued survival in a new school
